More than 400 part-time day and evening courses will be offered at some nine campuses.

There's recreational horseback riding in Humber's Olympic-size Equine Centre or a series of athletic programs to choose from such as judo, golf, sailing, scuba diving and tennis.

Then there's ceramics, weaving and photography in the Creative Arts program or courses in music, modern dance and theatre.

Registration for all courses now. Call 678-9195 for a free brochure and more information.

HUMBER PROJECT AIDS IMMIGRANT FAMILIES

A storefront community centre operated by Humber College in the Borough of York is designed to help immigrant Italian and West Indian families carve a better deal for themselves in Toronto.

The Humber-York Centre channels immigrants into educational opportunities through Humber's various courses provided at Neighbourhood Learning Centres.

The community centre, at a cost to Humber of $30,000 a year, also serves as a meeting place for West Indian and Italian groups. The centre serves an area in the western part of the borough where some 10,000 West Indians live. But most of the residents are Italian immigrant families.

Alberto Di Giovanni is Director of the Centre. He said the immigrants use the place to discuss topics ranging from citizenship and multiculturalism to discipline in the schools and the problems Italian women face in a Canadian environment.

The Centre's function, primarily, is to promote the College's courses available through its NLC's located throughout the Borough of York.

WOMEN'S PROGRAM PLANNED

Women of all ages in the Borough of York will get together for a day of discussions and entertainment on Saturday, April 24th at York Memorial Collegiate. The program has been planned by Humber College's Centre for Women and the Borough of York.

There will be a choice of 14 workshops on such topics as choosing to be a housewife, getting into the work force, the future of marriage and living alone.

Fee for the day is $1.00. For more information call the Centre for Women at extension 541.

And on Monday, May 3rd is the last in a series of five free workshops for women.

The Centre wants to learn, through these workshops, how Humber can be of help to women.

This final session will be held at the York Public Library at 1745 Eglinton Avenue West.

SHEA APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF PLANNING BOARD

Derwyn Shea, Director of Humber's popular Neighbourhood Learning Centres, was recently elected Chairman of the City of Toronto Planning Board.

Shea has served his apprenticeship for many years as a member and more recently Vice-Chairman of the Board.

One of the major tasks just completed by the Board is a master plan for the core area of the city.

LAW REFORM COMMISSION OF CANADA AWARDS GRANT TO HUMBER COLLEGE

Canadians have recently heard a great deal about proposed changes to laws in this country. Meanwhile, wide-spread reform has been recommended in a number of critical areas which is intended to affect our individual and community life.

Humber College in Toronto became the first post-secondary institution in Canada to receive a $3,000 grant from the Law Reform Commission of Canada to carry out a pilot project involving public discussion at the neighbourhood level on the topics of "Divorce Law" and "Imprisonment and Release".

A free Law Reform Workshop was held on Monday, March 22nd at the Runnymede Neighbourhood Learning Centre of Humber College located in the Borough of York and more than 80 people attended.

"This is an exciting development for the public on the entire law reform issue," said Michael McDonald, legal coordinator of Humber's Neighbourhood Learning Centres.

The Law Reform Commission of Canada has drafted proposed legislative changes based upon expert study and professional advice. But now it seeks public participation and input before its final recommendations are submitted to Parliament.

"We deserve the society we get," said Derwyn Shea, Director of Humber's NLC's. "We're now being offered the opportunity of shaping a new society. If we don't like the result, we have only ourselves to blame."

JUNE CONVOCATION AT HUMBER

Humber's Summer Convocation will take place on three consecutive evenings in June according to the Registrar of the College.

Fred Embree said Tuesday, June 15th will be for students graduating from programs in the Health Science Division. Students in Applied Arts and Technology will graduate on Wednesday, June 16th and those in Business, Creative and Communication Arts and General Arts and Science will receive their diplomas on Thursday, June 17th.

Guest speakers have also been arranged for the three ceremonies.

Dr. Alan Thomas, Chairman of the Department of Adult Education at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education will speak on the first night.

Dr. J. Gordon Parr, Deputy Minister of the Ministry of Colleges and Universities for the Province of Ontario, will address those on the second night.

And the Governor of the Island of St. Vincent, Sir Rupert John, will speak on the final day.

This year's convocation is expected to be the largest in the history of Humber College.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT CENTRE

The International Student Centre at Humber, a drop-in place for students of all nations and cultures, has moved to a bigger and better location.

The Centre is now located in portable one; formerly the Athletic and Recreation offices.

The Centre, founded in 1968-69 by Assistant to the President Doris Tallon, is open to anyone who may be interested in meeting new friends, helping new students with problems of adjusting to the Canadian environment or just to lounge around and talk.

"We have needed the Student Centre because there are so many students of different cultures in the school," she said. Pamphlets, brochures and other material are available from the Centre. They will contain information from areas like St. Lucia and St. Vincent, Pakistan, Antigua, Africa and England.

APPLICATIONS TO HUMBER TOP 10,000

Humber College in Toronto has received more than 10,000 applications for full-time post-secondary programs according to Humber's Associate Registrar.

"The number of applications received date represents a 43 per cent increase over last year in first choice selections by students as to which place they'd like to continue their education," said Phil Karpetz.

Karpetz said Humber had a record total of 12,000 applications last year.

"We've still got another four months to go for this year and we're getting applications at the rate of some 70 a day," he said. "It tends to pick up towards the summer period when students are out of school and thinking about their future."

The projected enrolment for Humber for the fall of 1976 is around 7,100 full-time students including some 350 who will attend the College's new Humber Lakeshore Campus bordering Lake Ontario.

"The largest division to be housed at Lakeshore is Business with some 200 students," said Karpetz. "It's also interesting to note that we'll have more students taking Technology programs at Humber than ever before."

TALLON APPOINTED TO WOMENS ADVISORY COUNCIL

Doris Tallon, was the first woman to be appointed assistant to a college president, and she has now accepted the newly-created position of programming director to the Women's Advisory addition in Humber.

The appointment was established in reply to the report, "Women and the College of Applied Arts and Technology" which recommended that each college "identify one individual with a specific mandate to co-ordinate, design and implement actions pertaining to the Status of Women."

Mrs. Tallon will chair a committee which will consist of students both male and female - as well as college faculty and staff. It is their responsibility "to monitor and report on the status of women in Humber and to implement programs for women within the college."

HUMBER APPEALS OPERATING GRANT

Humber College will be appealing a 16.5 million dollar operating grant from the Province according to the College's Academic Vice President.

Jim Davison said the 1976/77 grant was only 9.85 per cent higher than last year instead of the 11 per cent.

The operating grant is one of five areas funded by provincial grants. It is also the largest.

The grants were announced by the Minister of Colleges and Universities, Doctor Harry Parrott, based on 1975/76 enrolment.

Staff speak out!

QUESTION: What was one of the most exciting things to happen at Humber, that you can remember, during the past 10 years?

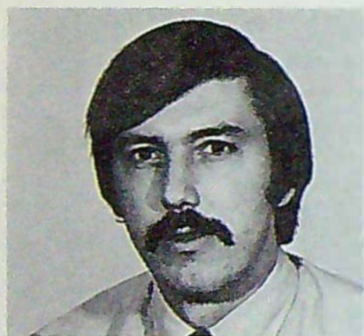

Back in 1967, about 30 instructors started on this new venture, called Humber College located in the Old George Bell Public School in Long Branch.

We knew all the other instructors by first names, and each student was a local boy or girl who had grown up in the community. I remember each of the 16 in my first graduating class as well as the eight who dropped out, and have talked with many of them over the past 10 years. Today we are a very large educational complex with about 500 instructors; many of whom I have never met.

We must have good acceptance by both students and industry to have grown so much. I have enjoyed my past 10 years and hope that I may be able to be around to observe the changes during the next 10 years.

Ralph Dinsmore
Instructor - Technology Division
North Campus

One of the most exciting moments in Humber's short history must surely be the winning of the 1971/72 intramural basketball championship by the RAN-DA STAFF team. Happily, I was a member of that excellent squad. I still have fond memories of our team riding rough-shod over the staff team from the North Campus.

Terry Joy
Program Co-ordinator
Keele Dale Campus

"Liberation College was exciting. In 1970 when the students decided to set up their own campus out in the woods, they were testing their own ideals and the flexibility of Humber College. When President Wragg went out to chop firewood for them - I knew that this College had decided to be human. We haven't entirely succeeded, because we keep growing during crucial periods, but the spirit is still there."

Wayson Choy
Instructor - English Department
North Campus

The most exciting time at Humber for me, was the time I was first employed at Humber in April of 1967 at the old South Campus. The College consisted of a staff of three, two tables, one desk and a pair of scissors.

The Business Administrator/Registrar kept all the financial details in a metal cookie box which he locked every night in my desk drawer. From such a small beginning it was exciting to see a college developing right before our eyes.

The highlights of the 1967 season were when the students, all 439 of them arrived in September, and when in October, the first shipment of books came. We then had both students and books - the primary ingredients for a college library!

Audrey MacLellan
Chief Librarian
North Campus

These 10 years at Humber have been marked by many interesting events like ceiling cave-ins and sandhills in the halls. Throughout it all I have enjoyed working with many fine people.

Beryl Foulkes
Custodial Department
Lakeshore I Campus

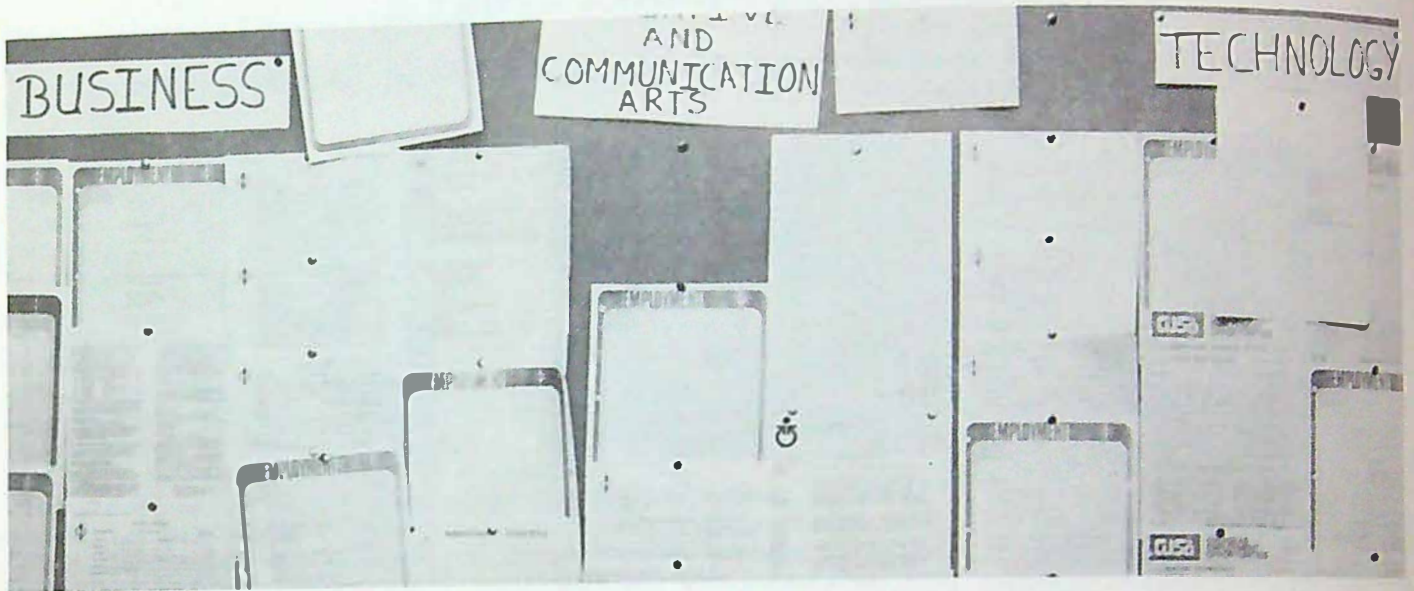

There have been many highlights over my nine years at Humber, but above all stands out the memories of that pioneer year in 1967 when some 39 of us from education and business, joined together in an old school building -- saved at the last moment from demolition -- to establish Humber College.

The heating plant was often erratic; planes overhead often dived on us; the cafeteria's prize possession was a microwave oven, and plants and pictures frequently ingeniously disguised what could not be patched or painted.

But everyone shared a spirit of adventure which carried us along to our first Humber graduation ceremonies in the Lakeshore Teacher's College on May 25, 1968.

Nostalgia for the "old days"? Perhaps! But for me, working with the first class in a new course for legal secretaries, and watching on that May day as those students became Humber College's first graduates, still is my personal highlight.

Elsie Swartz,
Instructor - Legal Secretarial Program
Business Division
North Campus

FROM HUMBER TO CIGARS

A business graduate from Humber College has become Vice President and General Manager of the first new cigar factory to start production in Canada in 25 years.

Richard Macpherson's new executive post is with the Les Cigars Florian firm which has started cigar production in Montreal.

After graduating from Humber, he became a tobacco retailer and then a specialist in hand made cigars. The new factory has taken over a lot of equipment and some of the lines of the now defunct Simon cigars.

MARKETING STUDENTS IN COMPETITION

Humber's student marketing team, under the direction of Business Division Instructor Gerry Byers, were entered in the Industrial Marketers of Toronto competition on March 11th. The seven man team from Humber placed behind Sheridan and George Brown Colleges.

Each team submitted a very detailed analysis of an actual manufacturing firm before a panel consisting of members of IMT.

Judging was based on evaluation of the company's present marketing program, philosophy and use of marketing recommendations to increase profits and sales and effectiveness of the 30 minute verbal presentation before the judges. Humber won the first two of the five competitions and has placed in the finals four times.

The students representing Humber were Alan Buchanan, Roger Boisvert, Gord Schofield, Terry Barlow, Paul Woodd-isse, Rick Aikins, Andy Sribinak. Humber faculty included co-ordinator of the activity, Gerry Byers, and Byron Collins, Werner Loiskandl, Don Sbrolla and Joan Rutherford.

NEW MEMBERS FOR COMMITTEE

A new body of officials has been elected for Humber's chapter of the Canadian Food Services Executive Association. The election was open to first year students in the Hotel and Restaurant Management Program.

The CFSEA is the largest national food club in Canada and Humber is the only community college which has the privilege of being a charter member.

Many jobs are available for graduating students this year according to the bulletin boards around Humber College and especially this one outside the Career Planning and Placement Office.

ETOBICOKE STUDENTS RAISE $850

Humber College students have raised $850 to help victims of the Guatemala earthquake.

Pedro Zucchet, a second-year cinematography student, said the money was raised by 30 students during a four-day drive in the North Campus last week.

He said the money will be forwarded to Canada World Youth, which has 25 volunteers in Guatemala to aid in relief and emergency operations.

Zucchet, 21, who headed the Humber drive, came to Canada in 1974 after living in Guatemala for 18 years.

The February 4 earthquake left 22,000 dead, 62,000 injured and 1.5 million homeless in the Central American nation.

Ed Harrington, former defensive lineman with the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League visited Humber recently. He was presented with flowers by Doris Tallon, Assistant to the President. Harrington is now a special investigator with the Office of the Ombudsman for the Province of Ontario.

SARAH THOMSON

"Welcome boys and girls to Romper Room".

Remember that opening? Well, Sarah Thomson of Humber College certainly does.

The teaching master in Psychology at Humber College was the "Miss Sarah" on the popular childrens television series.

Mrs. Thomson, who is from Hamilton, joined Humber's teaching staff in the Human Studies Division in 1973.

"I tell you it was interesting how I came here from Romper Room," she said. "I met Earl Reidy, who also teaches here, and he told me about teaching and the success of community colleges. I knew when working with children, that my strength was in teaching."

"Earl talked about the kinds of people Colleges were looking for and the next thing I knew a position came up for a Psychology instructor and I got it."

Mrs. Thomson started her career in television in 1962 with CHCH Television. The Hamilton station carried Romper Room one hour each day from Monday to Friday for 18 months.

In 1964, CFTO Television in Toronto picked up the show and "Miss Sarah" found a whole new audience. Mrs. Thomson also did some work as a hostess-interviewer on CFTO's "Toronto Today" show where she talked with people in the city.

"Romper Room then went on the CTV network and there just wasn't enough time for me to do both it and Toronto Today, so I had to leave the latter," she said.

"We did Romper Room across the country and travelled to different cities for five years until 1970," she added, "It was that year in which the program was dropped by the network. After eight years of working with children I then decided to continue and finish university which I started in 1969 while doing the show."

Romper Room was a nursery school program for television. Mrs. Thomson graduated from Westdale High School in Hamilton in 1956 and went back to university to obtain her Honors Bachelor of Arts Degree in Psychology from McMaster University at the age of 32.

In 1957, while at university, she applied for a summer job in the airforce and went to officers school in London, Ontario as a flight cadet (officer in training). This was on the University Reserve Training Plan (URTP) whereby university students got jobs in the armed forces.

"It was a good summer job," she said. "And I learned general basic training."

She also met a pilot from Scotland, named Keith, who had joined the Royal Canadian Air Force and married him a year later.

"He was transferred to Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan for awhile and we later came back to Hamilton where Keith went to McMaster," she said. "I was watching Channel 11 and saw that day they were advertising for a Romper Room teacher so I figured I'd apply.

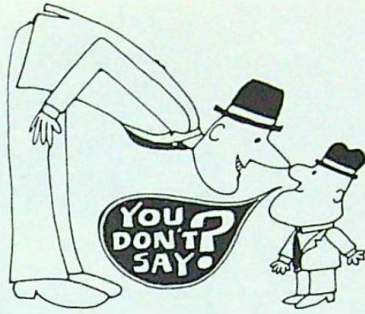

I had an audition with about 15 other women and some of them were extremely good looking. I remember I wasn't nervous because I did a little theatre (acting) work. Later I was told the job was mine and I couldn't believe it."

Mrs. Thomson remembers her first day on the job.

Mrs. Thomson worked with six children on camera for a one-hour period doing a variety of games, stories, songs and teaching of the alphabet.

"The show was live and I didn't find out until halfway through that my slip was showing and that I was talking too loud," she said. "No one ever told me about television yet I had no problems with the children on the show."

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

In March 1977, the Eastern Section of the Malton Exchange in which Humber College is located will become part of the Expanded Toronto Exchange. This change will realign the Malton Exchange Boundaries to coincide with the Municipal and Regional Boundaries of Peel Region and Metropolitan Toronto.

The Expansion of the Toronto Exchange, to take place in November 1976, will put most Metro customers in the same exchange and at the same time we will gain local calling with the Agincourt and West Hill exchanges. With the Malton Realignment in 1977, all of Metropolitan Toronto will be served from the same exchange.

This Boundary change means our telephone service will be provided from a new switching centre. This means that we will be given a completely new telephone number beginning with the digits "675".

This changeover will not affect our basic telephone rate. However, our local calling area will be expanded to include Ajax-Pickering, Bethesda, Bolton, Gormley, Kleinburg, Maple, Markham, Nobleton, Oakville, Richmond Hill, South Pickering, Thornhill and Unionville exchanges.

Our new number will be listed in the Metropolitan Toronto Telephone Book to be delivered in March 1977. Our present telephone number will be included in the December 1976 edition of the Halton and Peel Regions Directory for this issue only. In addition, anyone calling our old number after the change will be given our new number by an operator.

We will be advised of our new telephone number by August, 1976.

Thank you.
Bob Howie,
Director of Office Services
North Campus

TO THE EDITOR:

Thank you so much for the very full and interesting Board of Trade Business-Education Day at Humber College.

At this point, I am sure I know more about Humber College than any other educational institution in Ontario. Business-Education Day was beautifully arranged so that we could all have an opportunity to understand the rationale of each area of the College.

I have passed on the information about different departments to a number of our reporters. What really impressed me was the pride everyone has in Humber College, it shines through.

Many thanks for your fine hospitality.

Yours sincerely,
Mary M. Clarkson

TO THE EDITOR

On behalf of the Etobicoke Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, we'd like to thank those in the Public Relations Program at Humber for all their help in organizing the recent blood donor clinic at the College.

The two day clinic was attended by 360 people and we are pleased to report that 319 units were collected.

Once again, would you please extend our thanks to all the first year students in the Public Relations Program who assisted us on rest beds, serving juice and moving equipment.

Thanks again, the efforts were extremely appreciated by us and especially by the many people who will receive blood transfusions because of this.

Sincerely,
Liane Sharkey

TO THE EDITOR:

On behalf of the University Centre Programming Office I would like to thank Ron Collier and the other members of the Humber College Jazz Band for their great performance at the Guelph University Centre.

I would like to believe your trip down to Guelph was a mutually beneficial one. The performance given by the Humber College Jazz Band was one of the best programs that has been scheduled into the University Centre Courtyard since the building was opened a year and a half ago. This impression was received by the audience response which was most positive.

Thanks again for coming to Guelph to showcase all that talent. I hope we can work together at some point in the future.

Best of luck to you and all the band members.

Sincerely yours,
John D. Wilkes
Programming Officer

TO THE EDITOR:

Even though small in size, Humber-York Centre is continually growing in numbers, involvement, and activities.

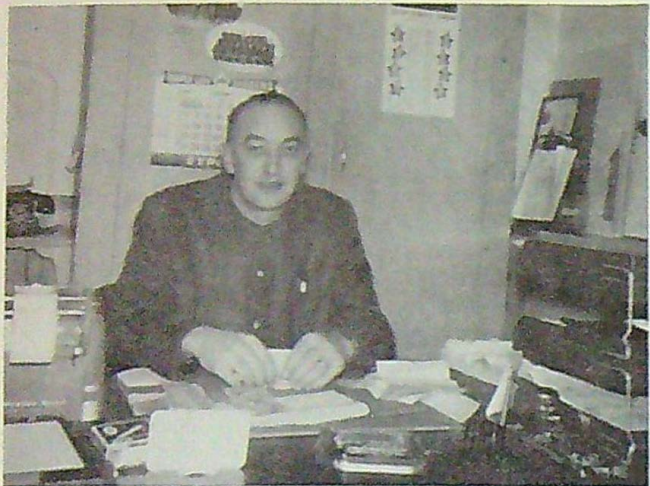

The number of community groups now using the storefront office has increased to seven, including, as usual, those of: The Dante Society of Toronto, Il Comitato Scolastico, and The Multicultural Theatre association.

A new addition to the "Comitato" workers, Angelo Castiglione, has his hands full with the general co-ordination of Italian cultural classes for children. Another recent L.I.P. worker, centre on behalf of the Federation of Italo-Canadians. Jerry Polivka, Executive Director of the Multicultural Theatre Association on both the national and provincial levels, is in the midst of preparations for the next Multicultural Theatre Festival to be held in Winnipeg this July. And the Second National Congress on Multiculturalism in Ottawa by special invitation of the Federal Government.

In the Spring months soon to come, Humber-York Centre expects even more movement and activity . . .

Ebby Bishop

The Arena Management Program at Humber College, the only one of its kind in Canada, is conducted by a man with a very interesting hockey background.

Everett "Ebby" Bishop was, among other things, the general manager of the London Knights Junior "A" Hockey Club, a team which he felt could have won the Memorial Cup in the 1967-68 season.

Bishop was manager of London's Arena Gardens and also general manager of the city's junior team. The team played in the junior "B" ranks for two seasons and Bishop was then successful in getting a junior "A" franchise for London in 1965.

During training camp in September, 1967, London had a powerful squad assembled and Bishop figured it could have won the Memorial Cup.

But the professional teams had other ideas. The Toronto Maple Leafs signed Gary Unger (now with St. Louis), Jim Dorey (now with the Toronto Toros of the World Hockey Association) and Walt McKechnie (now with Detroit) and the Montreal Canadiens grabbed Moe St. Jacques, although the players still had one year of junior remaining.

Unger played one game that season and the others played none, so Bishop's dreams were shattered. The London Knights plugged the holes and finished a respectable sixth in the major junior "A" league.

Bishop had several other players with him on the London teams who have gone on to stardom in the National Hockey League.

His first draft in 1967 was a midget playing junior "C" for the Elmira Sugar Kings by the name of Darryl Sittler, now the Maple Leafs' captain. Unger was his branch-to-branch transfer the same season from Calgary.

Unger told Bishop later that the two best turning points for him were when he decided to stay in London and when the Maple Leafs traded him to the Detroit Red Wings.

Other players Bishop had at London were Gerry Desjardins of the Buffalo Sabres, Darryl Edestrand of the Boston Bruins, Mike Corrigan of the Los Angeles Kings and John Gould of the Vancouver Canucks.

During his stint as the London team's general manager, Bishop attended numerous banquets in a speaking capacity and usually would take along one or two of the players.

On one occasion he took Sittler, and the 17-year-old kept saying on the way to the banquet, "I won't have to speak, will I?"

Punch Imlach's son, Brent, was another of his London players.

Punch Imlach had told Bishop that if necessary he was to decide on young Imlach's hockey future. Midway through the season Brent told Bishop that school authorities had told him to choose between studies and hockey. Bishop told Brent to stick with the studies and pass up the balance of the junior "A" schedule because he had tallied only six goals in 42 games.

Imlach did that and today is a lawyer. Among his clients, incidentally, are a couple of Buffalo Sabres for whom he negotiates with the Buffalo general manager, who happens to be his father.

Bishop and his family moved to Woodbridge last June from Kitchener and reside one block from where they lived when he was Woodbridge arena manager and recreation manager from 1950 to 1952.

After four years in Fort Erie in the same capacity, he moved to Guelph as manager of the Memorial Gardens from 1956 to 1963. He recalls some of the part-time ice planners at the arena were Guelph hockey players of that era such as Bruce Gamble, Rod Gilbert, Jean Ratelle and Bob Plager.

Bishop himself played junior "A" hockey for Guelph in the 1940-41 season, followed by senior hockey for Port Colborne, for the RCAF, Welland, Woodbridge and Fort Erie. He was backup goalkeeper for Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League in 1952-56. He has also taught minor lacrosse and managed a senior baseball team.

After Humber received government approval for the arena management course on April 17, 1973, Bishop says they managed to put the course together in 10 days and had a class of six students in the first year. There were 28 students in the second year and 28 in the third year, a total of 62 graduates.

The prime requisite for entry to the course is that a person has been in the arena business two years or is a graduate of recreation leadership from a community college.

The latest class which graduated Jan. 29 at the college's Lakeshore campus had an age spread of 20 to 55 years. One man, out of school for 25 years, tied as the top student. Graduates are employed in almost every borough arena, including Mimico, Albion, Central, Centennial, Long Branch and Pine Point.

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau speaks to the Italian Community of Toronto. Alberto Di Giovanni, Director of Humber-York Centre in the Borough of York, (to his right with vest) later presented the Prime Minister with a brief on Multiculturalism.

REPORT PRESENT TO OTTAWA

Alberto Di Giovanni, Director of the College's Humber/York Centre Campus, presented a brief to the Standing Committee on Citizenship (Bill C20) in Ottawa on March 20th.

Some of the main points of the brief were to reduce the waiting period of applying for citizenship from 21 to 18 years; to stress knowledge of Canadian participation and institution rather than geography and to place more emphasis on Canada in the Oath of Allegiance.

HUMBER LEADS DEVELOPMENT OF COLLEGE PROGRAMS

Humber College has originated proposals for the development of two individualized learning programs at Colleges in Ontario according to Frank Ryan at Humber's Lakeshore II Campus.

He said that as a result, the federal government recently awarded two grants of $96,000 for the Drafting Program and $111,000 for the Machine Shop Program - for this project.

Humber will also administer the grants and will work in cooperation with other Colleges in the province.

FIVE TIMES A YEAR

Humber Happenings will publish five times during the College's 10th Anniversary.

The College magazine, available to all full-time faculty and staff at all campuses, will have editions printed in Spring (April), Summer (June), Fall (September), Christmas (December) and Winter (February).

Letters to the Editor are greatly appreciated along with other items of interest of the College community.

All contributions should be submitted through Divisional or Departmental Contributing Reporters and addressed to the Director of College Relations, North Campus, Humber College no later than the 11th day of the month preceding publication date.

DONATIONS REACH $15,000 FOR TOY SERVICE

More than $15,000 has already been raised towards Humber's mobile toy lending service.

Steve Thomas, Director of Development at Humber, said the total includes a sum of $5,000 raised at a benefit fashion premier in February at Hotel Toronto.

Frank Thibodeau, project co-ordinator for the service, said that a good selection of toys have already been collected and the next step is to acquire two vans. He said the vans will travel around to isolated areas of Ontario this summer with toys to lend to mentally retarded children and children with cerebral palsy.

Donations have already been received from the Atkinson Charitable Foundation, the Ontario Association for the Mentally Retarded and Tonka, Reliable and Irwin Toy Companies.

Thibodeau said the project, which is the first of its kind by a college in Canada, will cost about $100,000. This includes buying the vans, stocking them with toys and operating them for two years on a trial basis.

The vans will be staffed by a driver and two Humber students who will keep track of the toys and explain to parents how to help their children get the most from them.

PERUVIANS VISIT HUMBER

A group of eight senior educators from Peru visited Humber College on March 26th and 29th for a look at the manpower training program and Retraining Centre at the College's Lakeshore Campuses.

The group was visiting Ontario and looking at how community colleges operate in the areas of professional development, administration, student affairs and retraining.

Five of the officials were teachers or administrators while the others were made up of a curriculum expert, a pedagogical architect and a furniture design educator.

Colleges on their provincial tour were Humber, Algonquin in Ottawa, Georgian in Barrie and Loyalist in Belleville.

VISITOR FROM NEPAL

Students in the Hotel and Restaurant Administration Program hosted a government official from Nepal on April 15th.

Pushmar Laimaskay, Director of the Hotel and Tourism Training Centre in Nepal, visited Humber to study the success of the College's Hotel and Restaurant Administration Program.

The task was assigned to him by the International Labour Organization of the Ministry of Labour in Ottawa according to Igor Sokur, Co-ordinator of Humber's Hotel and Restaurant Administration Program.

Profile

Joe Miceli

He's called "Joe the Bus Driver" by his friends and to many he's just that. But to others around Humber College he's more.

Joe Miceli came to Humber in the Spring of 1969 and joined the custodial staff as a caretaker for the field house. One year later, he applied for a position with Humber's transportation department where he's been for the past six years serving staff, students and the general public.

Miceli was born in Toronto and lives in Etobicoke. Joe starts his day at 7:00 a.m. and finishes around 6:30 p.m.

An average day for him at Humber starts with the pickup of mentally handicapped children for the College's Developmental Centre. He then does deliveries and pickups for the College and concludes the day with evening bus runs. Miceli also does a lot of driving for senior citizens.

"I like people," he said. "Whether they're young kids, day students or senior citizens. I'm always part of them. They like me and I like them."

Miceli has been in the drivers seat many years and has received safe driving awards for 25, 26 and this year 27, consecutive years without an accident.

"These awards are given at our annual transportation banquet by our Transportation Director, Don McLean," he said. "The awards are issued through the Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications."

When asked for a tip on his driving success, Miceli said, "I think at times I'm lucky but what I'd like to say is that the most important thing is to always be observant, learn defensive driving skills and take your time."

Miceli, who's married and has three children, enjoys volunteering and working with children.

"When we're normal and healthy we don't really understand what retarded children and those with cerebral palsy and polio go through," he said. "I like giving them as much as we can and especially enjoy having the opportunity to drive them to picnics, or swimming at Albion Pool, or to the island and zoo."

Joe came to Humber after 13 years with Carling-O'Keefe Breweries as a driver and member of their sales promotion team. He was also a warehouse worker for the Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

Miceli graduated from St. Francis Separate School and then went to Central Technical School for one year.

"In those days I had to go to work," he said. "Things were rough in the 30's and I couldn't stay in school because our family needed the money to live. I even remember shining shoes after public school and on weekends."

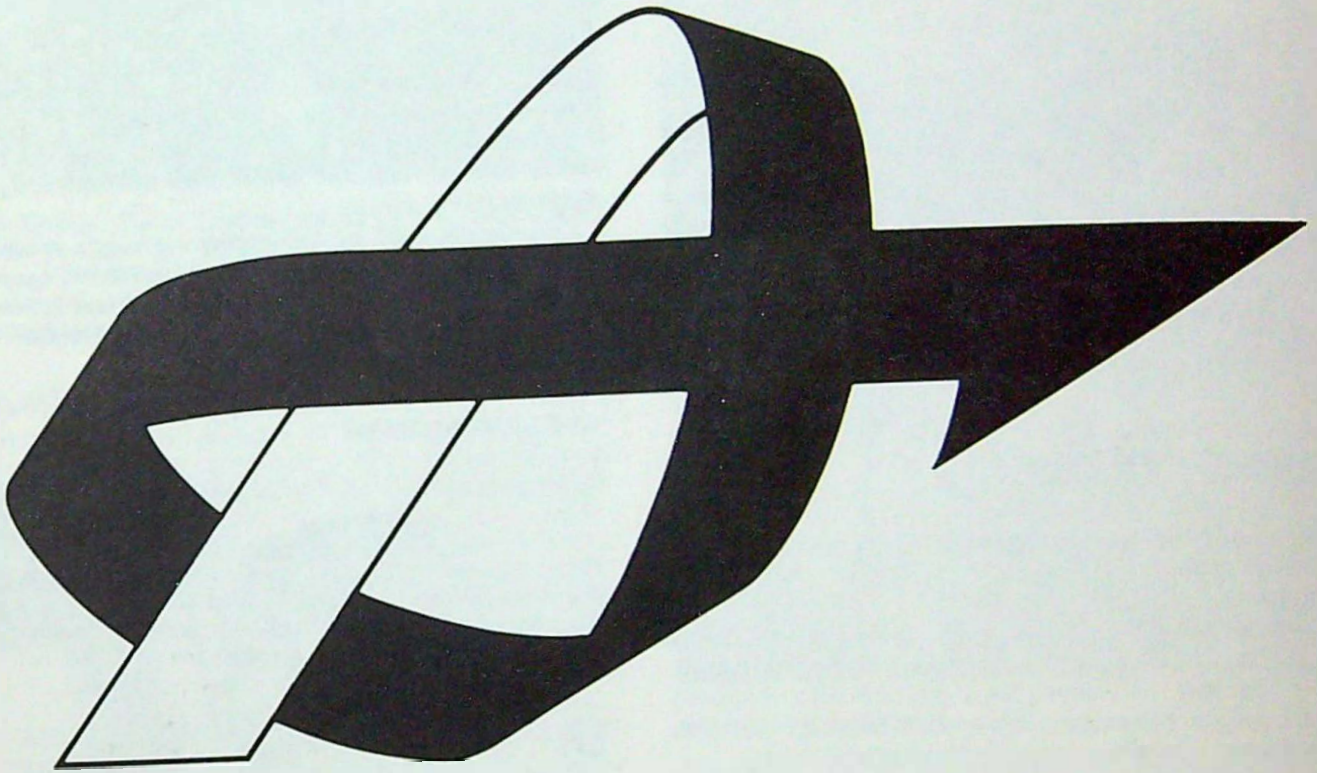

Miceli worked for Barrymore Cloth and Massey Harris (now called Massey Ferguson) while in his 20's operating overhead cranes for years.

"I'm also involved in community work as a coach for a variety of softball teams in the Eringate Softball League, on the special events committee at my church and believe it or not, I also get time to be a member of the Humber Valley Council of the Knights of Columbus."

Miceli's hobbies are sports, music, gardening and you guessed it, "helping others."

Celebrating Our 10th Anniversary
SEP 1, 1976 - JUNE 30, 1977

10th ANNIVERSARY YEAR

10th ANNIVERSARY LOGO

Humber College will have a special logo for its 10th Anniversary year.

The logo was created by Julie Moss, a first year student in the Advertising and Graphic Design Program at Humber.

The design represents the number 10, the letter "A" for anniversary and an arrow symbolizing progress.

The new logo will appear on all promotional material and letterhead through the year along with Humber's standard logo.

HUMBER CELEBRATES 10TH ANNIVERSARY

It's 10th Anniversary year at Humber College and a special planning committee has been hard at work since last year putting together events and activities for the entire college community.

Overall Objectives

The overall objectives for Humber College's 10th Anniversary are three-fold:

- To use the occasion as a means of engaging the residents and businesses of Etobicoke and York in creative, educational/cultural and recreational projects and to solicit public involvement in planning the next decade of their Community College;
- To use the occasion in a commemorative manner through the design of activities and events which as an integral part of their design will be both significant and of lasting value;
- To use the occasion as a public relations vehicle to promote and further the educational aims and objectives to Humber College as an innovative and responsive educational enterprise serving the people in the Boroughs of Etobicoke and York.

Planning Committee

A 10th Anniversary Planning Committee was established last year and Jim Davison, Vice-President, Academic, was appointed Chairman. Following the passing of Derek Horne, Vice-President, Administration; Davison assumed some additional responsibilities and the chairmanship of the committee was taken over by Robert "Tex" Noble, Vice-President, Development.

Progress to Date

The Committee has reviewed and approved a number of proposals during its meetings, which are now held weekly, and a program of events is beginning to take place. Among them are - development of the Arboretum, Floriculture Week, a cook book by students of the Family and Consumer Studies Program, a Technology Division Bursary Program, a Historical Pictorial Calendar of Humber's first 10 years, a reunion and seminar for the Floorcovering Installation Program, a record album produced by the Music Department, Band Concerts, a picnic for faculty, staff and their families early in September at which Igor Sokur will unveil his 10th Anniversary Cake - yum! yum!

Under review are proposals for: a Lakeshore official opening, a Vita Parcours Physical Fitness Facility, a Film Festival, Presidential Lecture Series featuring prominent speakers, a Centre for Women Bursary Program and others.

Ideas and Suggestions

If we are to have a program that is truly representative of all areas and at all Campuses of Humber College, the 10th Anniversary Planning Committee will need a lot more ideas and suggestions. Therefore, if you have any ideas or suggestions which you think would fit into the 10th Anniversary Program please contact your Planning Committee representative whose name is listed to the right.

BLIND STUDENT AT HUMBER PLANS TO BE TRAVEL AGENT

Twenty-two year old Paul Muntean is a student in the Travel and Tourism Program at Humber College. He is also blind.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind didn't give him much encouragement when he said he wanted to be a travel agent. After all, a career in travel can be risky even for someone who can see.

"The CNIB tried to discourage me," he said. "But I told them I was going to go anyway because I felt it was my bag."

Muntean is also the first student on campus to be provided with a seeing-eye dog in class.

Muntean was born in Yugoslavia and speaks seven languages. He moved to Canada with his parents after losing his sight at the age of 12.

He is married to a sighted wife, has one son and is wrestling champion of Brant County.

When he graduates, Muntean wants to work near his family in Kitchener and a number of travel agents have given him encouragement.

FASHION VISIT TO MONTREAL

Forty-five students and five instructors from Humber's Fashion Careers Program recently went on a trip to Montreal to visit Canada's top fashion market.

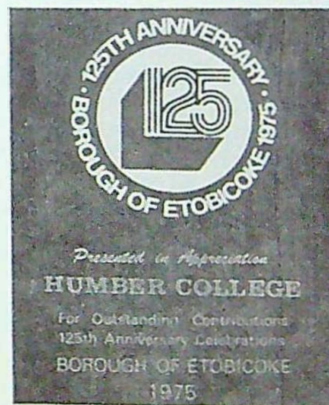

The four-day trip included visits of the Thomas Wallace Footwear Industries, a multi-level shopping mall called Les Terraces, Place Bonaventure, Westmount Square and attendance at a designer luncheon at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

SUMMER OPENING FOR BOUTIQUE

Box 1900, Humber's award winning fashion boutique, will be open this summer for the first time.

Nancy Epner, Co-ordinator of Humber's Fashion Careers Program, said operations of the boutique during June, July and August will be under the supervision of Marie Keare, who graduates from the Fashion Careers Program this summer.

Jim Gunn, Co-ordinator of the Borough of Etobicoke's 125th Anniversary celebrations last year, presents a plaque to Rick Hook (left), Dean of Humber's Applied Arts Division, for outstanding contributions by the College during the Anniversary year.

SPRING PLANT SALE IS COMING

Humber's Spring plant sale this year will be held for three days in May.

Russ Geddes of the Retail Floriculture Program said the sale will start on Wednesday, May 19th and continue until Friday, May 21st in the Greenhouse at the North Campus. Pre-order forms are available in the Applied Arts Division or in the Greenhouse.

RECIPE OF THE MONTH

Igor Sokur, Co-ordinator of the Hotel and Restaurant Management Program, will have a regular recipe in this space.

Response from readers to the "Recipe of the Month" feature has been outstanding. We'd be happy to hear more of your comments.

ITALIAN MIXED SALAD

| | |
|-------------|---|
| 2 quarts | salad greens |
| 1 | sweet green pepper, thinly sliced |
| 4 | whole roasted sweet red peppers from jar, thinly sliced |
| 2 | small hot green peppers, thinly sliced |
| 22-oz. jars | artichoke hearts in oil, drained |
| 2 3/4 oz. | jars cocktail mushrooms, drained |
| 12 large | stuffed green olives |
| 6 large | black olives |
| 2 large | tomatoes cut into wedges |
| 1/4 cup | capers in salt |
| 1 cup | diced celery |
| 1/4 cup | olive oil |
| 2 tbsp. | red wine vinegar |

The salad greens may consist of any available assortment such as lettuce, romaine, chicory, endive and water cress, cut or torn into medium-size pieces, washed and dried until not a droplet of water shows. Use one of those special wire salad baskets, paper towels or clean cloth towels for drying the greens. In a large salad bowl combine all the ingredients (ice-cold). Toss slowly but thoroughly until well blended. The capers in salt will usually obviate the necessity for additional salt. Since the artichoke hearts, roasted peppers and mushrooms are marinated as they come from the jar, no further marinating is required for this salad. Spoon the salad onto the serving plates.

HUMBER HOSTS GOLF TOURNEY

Humber College will host the 1975 CAAT College golf tournament in June.

The tournament will be held at the Golfhaven Golf and Country Club in Gilford, Ontario on Friday, June 18th.

The tournament is open to faculty and staff at all community colleges in Ontario. Those at Humber interested in registering can contact Jim Davison, Vice-President - Academic, ext. 230, John Cameron, Director of Purchasing, ext. 205 or Rick Bendera, ext. 217, Director of Athletics for more information.

A DAY OF INFLATION AT HUMBER

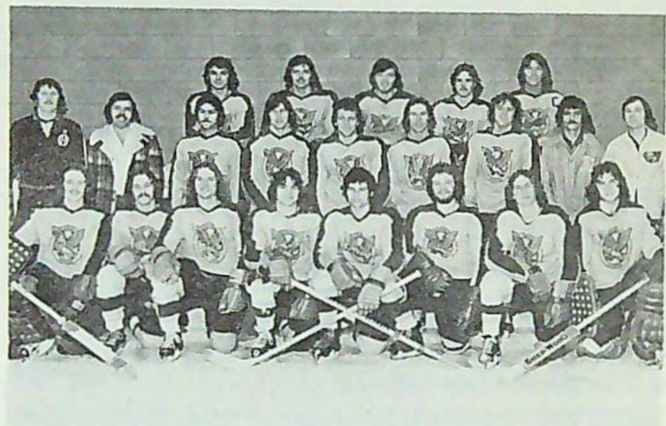

"Companies that try to find loopholes in the federal government's program of wage and price controls are inviting trouble with the anti-inflation board," said Jim King, Director of the board's compensation branch.

Many firms use their own interpretation of the anti-inflation legislation in an attempt to evade the law, he told a symposium sponsored by the Centre for Continuing Studies in Employee Benefits at Humber College. Anything contravening the spirit of the guidelines is subject to the board's discretion, he added.

Mr. King said some people have criticized the board for what they consider irrational decisions, such as "decisions to roll back agreements of eight per cent and approval of agreements of 20 per cent."

The board considers each case on its merit, he said, and does not apply a rigid yardstick to all of them.

Steve Hanfield-Jones, federal assistant deputy minister of finance, said it will take two or three years to lower the inflation rate to an acceptable level. Ross Peebles of Ontario's Cabinet committee on wage and price guidelines also spoke on how the restraints apply in his province.

Members of Humber's intercollegiate hockey team pose for post-season pictures after winning Ontario College Athletic Association Southern Division title for first time in 10 years.

HUMBER ENDS SUCCESSFUL ATHLETIC SEASON

The inter-collegiate season is over for Humber's varsity sports teams and it ended as one of the best ever for the College. The mixed and women's curling teams won the Ontario Colleges Athletics Association Southern Division title while the women's doubles badminton team placed third in the provincial finals.

The soccer and golf teams placed third in league competition, two members of the table tennis squad finished second in the regional playoffs and the tennis team won the South Division team championship.

But the story is with Humber's hockey team which won the OCAA Southern Division championship for the first time and lost to the eventual Canadian champs in the Ontario finals.

Congratulations to Humber Athletic Director, Rick Bendera, and coaches John Fulton and Peter Mayberry (hockey); Eldon Elgie (table tennis); Peter Duerden (soccer); Chris Franks (badminton); Eric Munding (golf); Jack Eilbeck (curling); and Marie Douglas (tennis).

HORSES INNOCULATED AGAINST ENCEPHALITIS

Veterinarians at Humber College's Equine Centre vaccinated about 60 horses on March 25th against sleeping sickness.

Known as Equine encephalitis, the disease has not been very common in Eastern Canada.

Doctor Neal Mendelson said a great number of cases were reported this past fall around Windsor and London.

"The disease is easily transmitted to other horses so we therefore felt this was reason enough to vaccinate our horses," he said.

Dr. Mendelson added that because horses are constantly being transported for rodeos and shows, their chances of contacting sleeping sickness were higher than normal.

The vaccine given to Humber's horses by Dr. Mendelson and Dr. Myles Smith is fairly effective in preventing the disease.

Encephalitis affects the brain and spinal cords of horses. The virus, which causes the disease, attacks the brain eventually causing deep sleep and coma. The animal will die unless treatment is received.

TOP ALBERTAN RIDER COMING TO HUMBER

Brian Ball of Lethbridge, Alberta, long regarded as one of the top riders in Southern Alberta, is coming to Humber College.

Ball will spend four weeks at Humber in June and July working with some of Canada's best trainers in jumping events.

He was one of seven Canadians to receive the Rothman's '76 scholarships.

HUMBER STUDENTS ORGANIZE HORSE SHOW

Second-year students in the Equine Studies Program at Humber put class theory to the test when they staged a Western Horse Show on March 14th in the Equine Centre.

The show was approved by the Ontario Western Horse Association as a points award show. Trophies were awarded for performances.

Thirteen classes were featured including reining, ladies western pleasure, pole bending and flag races.

HORSE GETS EYE SURGERY

Dr. Neal Mendelson, a veterinary surgeon at Humber, says the horse - Rullahs Image - is recovering well.

He said he tried to reverse the blindness by draining the mare's eyes of liquid that had collected in the eye chambers and obstructed vision.

He was assisted by Dr. Myles Smith, also of Humber, and Dr. Lionel Chisholm, a human eye surgeon from the Toronto Western Hospital.

Dr. Mendelson, said he believed this was the first type of operation of its kind in Canada.

EQUINE STUDIES STUDENTS TAKE TOUR

Students in Humber's Equine Studies Program recently spent three days on a tour related to their course of study.

The trip included a visit of Lake Erie College in Painsville, Ohio for a tour of their facilities and discussion of their programs.

Other stops were at Cornell University's Veterinary College in Ithaca, New York, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Training Centre in Rockcliffe, Ontario and the RCMP Breeding Ranch in Packingham, Ontario.

HAIRDRESSING, POETRY AND NOW PAINTING

Clint Hall has just completed his fourth book on poetry. But Humber's instructor of the Hairdressing Apprenticeship Program at the College's Lakeshore II Campus also finds time to paint.

Hall has made a number of oil paintings and some of them were recently on display in the executive offices of Baton Broadcasting in Toronto.

Tony Hiscoke, Chairman of the Instructional Material Centre at Humber, died suddenly on March 26, 1976 at the age of 33.

Mr. Hiscoke was born in London, England in 1943 and later moved to Canada before settling in Toronto.

He went to the University of Toronto Schools from 1954 to 1961 and later graduated from Earl Haig Secondary School in North York. Mr. Hiscoke was also a graduate of the Toronto Teachers College and in 1969 received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Waterloo Lutheran University.

Mr. Hiscoke worked for the North York Board of Education from 1966 to 1969 and then joined the Educational Department of the Ontario Science Centre before coming to Humber.

In 1970, he joined Humber College as a teaching master in I.M.C. and the next year became television producer in I.M.C. In 1973, he was appointed Chairman of the Centre which is responsible for the College's audio-visual and photography departments, media centre and television students.

Mr. Hiscoke was Production Co-ordinator of the Metropolitan Educational Television Association for three years and was a member of their program Committee for seven years.

In 1968 and 1969, he was an instructor and resource person for META and Ryerson's ETU extension course. Earlier this year, he was elected Provincial Chairman of the Ontario College's Media Director's Association.

Before his death, Mr. Hiscoke lived in Richmond Hill, was married and had two children.

HISCOKE BURSARY FUND

A bursary fund has been set up by the College in memory of Tony Hiscoke. The former Chairman of Humber's Instructional Materials Centre died of cancer on March 26th. Those wishing to contribute should send their donation to Steve Thomas, Development Director at Humber's North Campus.

Other bursary funds at the College set up in memory of former staff include the Derek Horne Fund (former Vice-President of Administration), Edna Gregorio Fund (former Nursing Instructor at the Quo Vadis Campus), and the Conroy Roberts Fund (former accountant in the Centre for Continuous Learning).

Earl Stoddart, a security guard at the Osler Campus of Humber College, died recently of cancer.

Mr. Stoddart was born in 1910 and lived in Weston after many years. He came to Humber in 1973 when Osler was transferred to Humber from the Ministry of Health.

OSLER STUDENTS HONOR MEMORY OF FORMER SECURITY GUARD

Students at Humber's Osler Campus have contributed funds to the Canadian Cancer Society in memory of former Osler security guard Earl Stoddart.

Students at the Campus raised $100.00 while Osler's Student Council sent a cheque for $50.00 to the Society.

INTERNATIONAL/NATIONAL COURSES

Students and staff associated with the part-time International/National courses at Humber College will take to the on-location part of their courses in May.

Larry Richard of the Human Studies division and 15 students leave for South America and an Andean Experience on May 15th and return June 12th.

Business Division Dean Eric Munding and 19 students leave May 7th for Great Britain on the International Business course and return two weeks later.

Austin Repath and five students are going to Scotland to study New Modes of living on May 7th and return June 5th.

Instructor Peter Mitchell and Richard Rumball will lead 19 students the Way North via Ontario Northland Railways on May 2nd and return May 16th.

Human Studies instructor Crystal Bradley takes 10 students to Greece on May 2nd for 20 days while Walt McDayer, Chairman of the same division, leads 14 more students through Greece and Italy for four weeks of study starting May 2nd.

GOOD EGG AWARD WINNERS

Iva Barnard and Igor Sokur are the 1976 winners of Humber's "Good Egg" Award.

The Award is presented annually to a faculty or staff member who consistently displays the spirit of co-operation, good-nature and exceptional human qualities while maintaining a high level of excellence in job performance.

Iva Barnard is the supervisor of Food Services at Humber's Lakeshore I Campus and is responsible for the feeding of about 2,000 people.

Igor Sokur, Co-ordinator of the Hotel and Restaurant Administration Program, has been the official Santa Claus at Humber since 1968 to over 5,000 children of Humber staff and students and has made some 200 gingerbread houses and 20,000 cookies for children in hospitals during Christmas.

This picture, of a display by students in the Landscape Program, was taken during the Ontario Parks Association conference held at Humber in February.

MOTORCYCLE SAFETY COURSE

Laurette Lafleur, an instructor in typing and shorthand at Humber's Keele Campus, is also an avid motorcycle instructor and rider.

Miss Lafleur has been teaching part-time motorcycle training programs at Humber for the past three summers.

This Canada Safety Council course is the only one offered at a Community College in Toronto. More than 300 people have taken the motorcycle course at Humber since it started.

One of the main reasons people take the Humber course is because the College provides the motorcycle and helmet for those who don't have them and a special road system at the College's North Campus.

The weekend courses start May 1st and weekday courses begin July 5th. Registration for 20 hours of instruction is only $50.00.

For more information and a free brochure call 252-5571 or 678-9195.

BISHOP AWARDED WITH COINS

Ebbie Bishop, Coordinator of Humber's Arena Management Program, received a set of Olympic coins during a recent ceremony in Midland.

The award was presented in appreciation for his work as founder of the Ontario Arena Association.

HUMBER STUDENTS LEARN TO TEACH THE HANDICAPPED

A physically handicapped student is expected to be among the first 13 people to graduate from a new program at Humber that teaches rehabilitation of the handicapped.

Craig Carlsen said he wants to teach others how to overcome handicaps, such as cerebral palsy that crippled his left side at birth.

Carlsen and the others in the two-year Rehabilitation Workers Program will be the first students in Canada to be trained to work with the handicapped in the sheltered workshops.

The program, which began last September, is even giving its students a working knowledge in the techniques of ceramics, woodworking and silkscreening that the handicapped will be trained to do.

The concept of the course began about two years ago. Tim Stanley, co-ordinator of the Furniture Design program designed a special typing table that locked to a student's wheelchair.

EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND AWARDS

Three projects will be financed by Humber's Educational Development Fund in the first half of this year. At its last meeting the Fund Review Committee approved applications submitted by three staff members of the Centre for Continuous Learning.

Derwyn Shea, received a grant of $3,529 to determine through action research the unmet needs of the black community in the Borough of York.

Donna Lee received $3,400 to conduct a research project which will identify more precisely the impediments which prevent women from accessing the full resources of the college as preparation for employment.

Mildred Toogood was granted $2,500 to develop a comprehensive manual for use by people, volunteers and professionals, who work with older persons.

The three successful applicants are all senior staff members of the Centre for Continuous Learning. Mildred Toogood is the Co-ordinator of Humber's programs for Senior Citizens, Donna Lee directs the Community Outreach activities of the Centre for Women and Derwyn Shea is Director of Humber's Neighbourhood Learning Centres.

The Educational Development Fund was established in 1975 to foster research and experimentation which may prove of value to Humber College. A sum of $20,000 was set aside to fund from five to ten projects in 1975-76.

SUMMER CAMPS FOR CHILDREN AT HUMBER

Want to get rid of your children?

How about sending them to one of the four summer camps at Humber College.

Summer Fun is an on-campus day centre offering summer fun for young learners, special outings, regular swimming, nature walks, creative arts, sports and other activities.

The fee is $25.00 per week per child and priority is given to children of parents taking courses at Humber during the summer. Children should be between 5½ and 10 years old. Summer fun starts June 21st at the North Campus and runs weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Camp Advance is intended for those children, ages 5 to 9, who have been diagnosed as learning disabled.

This program includes remedial reading, number work, creative activities, out-door play, studies and music.

The six-week camp starts July 5th at the North Campus. Registration is $75.00 and it runs weekdays from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

The Gymnastics Summer Camp is designed and operated for boys and girls, beginners to advanced gymnasts from 5 to 16 years of age.

All sessions are held weekdays at the Gymnastics Training Centre at Humber's Lakeshore I Campus. Fees for beginners are $10.00 for 5 sessions and for advanced gymnasts, $15.00 for 5 sessions.

Humber's North Campus is also the scene of Soccer Camps for boys and girls under the supervision of officials from the Ontario Minor Soccer Association.

The Camps are offered to boys and girls aged 9 - 18 years and the cost of the camp is dependant on the number of hours of instruction.

For registration, more information and a free brochure call Humber's Centre for Continuous Learning at 676-1200 or 678-9195.

GOOD BUSINESS SENSE TO LEARN FRENCH INDUSTRY DISCOVERIES

Whatever the sociological or political arguments, the Good-year Tire and Rubber Co. of Canada has found its own reason for learning French: It makes good business sense.

Goodyear is one of several Metro companies whose employees are learning French at Humber College under a federal language program previously reserved for civil servants.

Dialogue Canada is a classroom or self-study course adaptable to business situations.

According to Adrian Adamson, chairman of Humber's humanities department the Etobicoke college is the only public institution in Canada authorized to teach the course.

Humber negotiated with the government from July until December last year and has been teaching employees of Goodyear and the Harbour Castle Hotel since the beginning of January.

Plans are to extend the 30-week course to employees of Consumers Glass Co. Ltd., Ampex of Canada Ltd. and the Constellation Hotel, Adamson said.

JOBS FOR HUMBER PUBLIC RELATIONS STUDENTS

The Public Relations Program at Humber, unique in Canada, is not having any problem finding jobs for its graduates.

"In fact," said Hugh Morrison, Co-ordinator of the Program, "the problem is keeping the students from jobs until they've finished their three-year program here."

Sixteen students will graduate from the PR program this year and five of them already have full-time jobs. The other nine are working in off-campus internship jobs.

Those with full-time positions are Peter Schopfer, Public Relations and Recruitment Officer for Big Brothers of Canada; Kalene Guyader in the promotions and special events head office of the Robert Simpson Company; Don Boynton with the Public and Industrial Relations Counselling firm in Toronto; Marianne Langford with the Legislative Guides Program at Queen's Park and Henrietta Palecki, Public Relations Assistant at UNICEF in Toronto.

Morrison said students with internship jobs are Deborah Wagner with the CBC Olympic Sports Promotion; Talma Afgin, PR Department at the Ontario Red Cross Society headquarters; Pat Barrid, PR Department of the Better Business Bureau of Canada; Diane Gwiazda, PR Department of the Ontario Ministry of Health; Elizabeth Jennings, with the PR Counselling firm of Berger, Tisdall, Clark and Lesly; Linda Lawrence, PR Department of St. John Ambulance; Ken Shipley, PR Department at the head office of General Foods; Connie Saunders with the Toronto Board of Education and Ann Pascaris, PR Department of The Molson Group.

WIVES OF CBC ANNOUNCERS TAKE HUMBER COURSE

The names of Paul and Black don't ring a bell to many people but the husbands of Humber students Sharon Paul and Pat Black are well known to many of us.

Sharon is the wife of Bill Paul, news announcer with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and Pat is the wife of former CBC sportscaster Freddie Black.

Both Sharon and Pat are enrolled in Humber's Public Relations Program.

RADIO NAMES PERPETUATED

Two names long familiar to radio listeners in Southern Ontario - Crouter and Sandy - will be perpetuated as the result of two enrolments in the Radio Broadcasting course at Humber College in Toronto.

Keith Sandy, Jr., and Glenn Crouter have both applied and been accepted in the Humber program. The former's late father, Keith Sandy, was a major figure in Toronto radio for many years as host of CKEY's "Make Believe Ballroom". Glenn Crouter is a son of Wally Crouter, the popular morning show host on CFRB Radio.

"It really is a particular thrill for me," said Phil Stone, a veteran Toronto broadcaster who directs the Humber Radio Broadcasting Program. "Despite the fact that I spent most of my radio station years with an opposition station (CHUM) to Keith and Wally, we always had a strong relationship."

Sandy originally enrolled at Humber two years ago in the Journalism program and is now switching to Radio Broadcasting for his final year. Crouter is in his graduating year at McMaster University. "Both young men," said Stone, "would, of course, like to be on-air broadcasters and we are hopeful of helping them to attain their goals."

They will enter the course this coming September for the fall and winter 1976-77 semesters.

319 PINTS OF BLOOD DONATED

A two-day Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic at the North Campus of Humber on March 17th and 18th produced 319 pints of blood.

The clinic was organized by first-year students in the Public Relations Program at Humber. The Chairman of the event said 360 people attended the clinic.

More than $1,000.00 of art work by two Humber students was sold at a March show and sale in the McGuire Art Gallery. Joseph DiCaro and Janie Hobin, students in the Creative Arts Division, displayed more than 100 pieces of their work in ceramics.

According to DiCaro, 70 items were sold to visitors of the exhibition.

SMILE, YOU'RE ON HUMBER CAMERA

Booms hanging over partitions, microphones on desks and typing and cue set the scene for a recent film shot in the editorial services department at Southam News in Toronto.

A crew of third year Cinematography Program students at Humber did their film based on journalism students at work during their field training.

Given two weeks notice of their assignment the seven-man crew filmed at Humber, Southam and the CBC, with a schedule providing only three days from actual filming through editing to final answer print.

The film will eventually be used by Humber's Career Planning and Placement office as a promotional piece.

INDIANS IN THE CANADIAN NOVEL

Reverend Ernest Willie, a Canadian Indian who lives in Toronto, spoke to Canadian Literature students at Humber on April 1st in the North Campus Board Room.

Rev. Willie spoke on his tribal experiences in Kingcome, British Columbia. An account of his experiences is dramatized through Gordon in Margaret Craven's novel, "I Heard the Owl Call My Name".

BOX HELPS STUDENTS BEAT EXAM JITTERS

How do you help students overcome pre-examination jitters? Umesh Kothare, director of counselling services at Humber College, has one solution. He uses a toy train and a black box that clicks.

He says the train and the box are part of a tension-reducing program called bio-feedback, by which different degrees of physical tension are translated into sounds, such as clicks from the black box.

A person is connected to the box with electrodes and, by listening to the sounds and relating them to a specific physical state, can learn to control his emotional state, Mr. Kothare says.

When the person is tense, the box issues a series of loud, rapid clicks. But when the person relaxes, the ticking slows and stops altogether when he reaches a physical state of complete ease. Eventually the person learns how to enter a state of ease without the black box.

Once he has attained this, he can avoid pre-exam jitters, become a better public speaker or suppress the urge to smoke, Mr. Kothare says.

Five hundred Humber College students have received bio-feedback techniques in three years and he reports a 95 per cent success rate in clearing up tension headaches and eliminating the desire to smoke.

The toy train used by Mr. Kothare is connected to the black box. When the subject reaches a state of relaxation and completes a circuit inside the box, the train will run.

Mr. Kothare, who is completing doctoral requirements in counselling psychology at University of Toronto, says, "The end result is that I've taught several hundred Humber students how to use their minds to make their bodies feel healthier."

TOTEM AND TABOO

The difference between exploring and exploiting the unconscious was presented in a two-hour lecture and slide presentation on April 2nd at Humber's North Campus.

Wayson Choy, an instructor in the English Department of the Human Studies Division, explained Totem and Taboo "as being an attack on cultural do's and don'ts and why we are obsessed by them."

The lecture, given by Choy and sponsored by the literature and Communications Department contained scenes of erotic art, advertising and sexuality.

A standing room crowd of more than 300 students and staff crowded the lecture theatre.

THE LAW FAVORS MEN IN RAPE CASES SOCIOLOGIST SAYS

Rape is the safest crime in the world to get away with, sociologist Morry MacLeod said yesterday.

"There is a 1 in 100 chance of being convicted if you take part in a rape," he told 250 Humber College students. "Any gambler will accept those odds."

MacLeod, whose own wife was raped when they lived in Philadelphia, said any efforts the police make to combat rape are hindered because only 1 in 10 cases are reported.

MacLeod calculated that 59 per cent of reported rape cases result in charges. But only 25 per cent ever make it to court, resulting in a 9 per cent conviction rate.

Barry Saxton, a law enforcement instructor at Humber and former Metro policeman, said: "It's like working your way through a maze and ending up with a jigsaw puzzle. The maze is the law."

He said many facts have to be proven in a rape case and often they can't because the law favors the man.

"There is male bias written into the legal structure and this attitude has to be changed," MacLeod said. He said the sexual attitudes of Canadian men and women have to be changed. He said men are hung up with the idea of having to dominate their women.

"Men and women are being programmed differently," said MacLeod. "Men still are ignorant of what turns the opposite sex on."

MacLeod said the first place to start with changing the attitudes is with the police. He said more sufficient training is needed because they suffer misapprehensions about what a rape victim is feeling.
