

Humber Exchanges Land With Government

Humber College of Applied Arts & Technology has acquired 42 acres of land from the Government of Ontario in exchange for 23.2 acres.

The announcement was made by Gordon Wragg, President of Humber, during a press conference at the North campus.

The land acquired by Humber is located south of Lakeshore Boulevard, west of Kipling Avenue, east of the Lakeshore Psychiatric Hospital and north of Lake Ontario.

"We've also obtained the complete Lakeshore Teachers College for occupancy in the summer of 1975," said Wragg. "The northern site would have been difficult for us to develop without great expense."

The southern site already has the 90,000 sq. ft. Teachers College, with its double gymnasium and auditorium.

Humber has been renting space until now at its Queensway and Lakeshore campuses in the southern part of the borough and Wragg said even finding space to rent has been a problem.

The new campus would eventually serve 4,000 full and part-time students.

The land exchanged by Humber, and given temporarily to the Ministry of Government Services, is located on the southern side of the Humber River and west of Hwy. 27 at the North Campus.

Dennis Flynn, Mayor of Etobicoke, was happy about the exchange and indicated many residents of south Etobicoke would get involved in programs offered.

"We were worried about what the Government would use the land for," said Mayor Flynn. "There was mention of a detention centre but we are happy to say there won't be one in that part of the borough."

In obtaining the Lakeshore land bordering on Lake Ontario, President Wragg said a whole concept of new programs would be made available.

"We'd like to start a variety of programs including marine biology, marine communications and the study of water pollution at this location," he said. "And we can also host rowing, sailing and other water sports events. These would be in addition to the programs we're already offering at our other campuses."

The Humber land would also provide services to community groups, senior citizens clubs and cultural organizations.

President Wragg added that until construction starts, the land could be used as a park for borough residents.

Education

Walter Pitman and Fiona Nelson told a crowded conference on education at Humber that they favor an examination into the role of school trustees.

Pitman is Dean at Trent University in Peterborough and Nelson is the chairman of the Toronto Board of Education.

They were guest panelists at the recent three-day symposium on the Community Use of Educational Resources at the North Campus.

"They agreed that the role of school trustees should be examined and put in proper perspective," said Ken MacKeracher, chairman of the symposium and Dean of Humber's Centre for Continuous Learning. "In fact, trustees should play an advanced role and not just be responsible for the schooling of children, but in the education as it affects all segments of the community."

More than 280 delegates from every county in Ontario attended the event. They included parents, students, school trustees and representatives from the provincial government.

Women And Law

Divorce and Separation are among the topics of a two-day seminar at Humber College called "Women and the Law."

The event will be held on Friday, April 26th from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. and on Saturday, April 27th from 9:30 - 4:30 p.m.

The seminar will examine the law as it effects women in Canadian Society today.

Former member of Parliament, Judy LaMarsh, will be among the list of guest speakers.

Others include Elizabeth Neville, Director of the Ontario Women's Bureau; Jeanette Lavelle, leader of the Indian Rights for Indian Women and television personality Kay Sijurjonsson.

Speakers, panels and workshops will consider native women and the law, equal pay, family planning and abortion, pensions and other benefits, women and public assistance.

The seminar is open to the public. A registration fee of $10.00 includes the seminar, wine and cheese party, Saturday luncheon and printed materials.

Accordion

Eight people will play for the Canadian Accordion Championship at Humber College with the winner advancing to the World Finals in Sweden in October.

The competition is part of an International Accordion Conference being held from Friday, April 5th to Monday, April 8th at Humber's North Campus Theatre.

The eight finalists are: Sharon Hinsperger of Walkerton; Roland Klassen of Etobicoke; John Oczkowski of St. Catharines; Heidi Gross of Sarnia; Joseph Petric of Kingston; Eugene Laszkiewicz of Oshawa; Tilly Kooyman of Sarnia and Doug Schmitt of Armstrongs, B.C.

"These eight people represent the best up and coming accordion players in Canada," said Tony Mergel of Mississauga, President of the Canadian Accordion Teachers Association.

"We are going to discuss problems of the manufacturing of the musical instrument at the conference, as well as the potential use of the accordion as an educational vehicle in the future," added Mergel, who is also co-ordinator of music programs at Humber.

The conference is open to teachers, manufacturers and the general public. More than 100 people are expected to attend including representatives from British Columbia, Alberta, California and New York.

A general admission of $20.00 includes a Swedish banquet, lectures, demonstrations and a Monday luncheon.

Among the guest speakers are Boris Borgstrom, a well-known accordionist from St. Catharines and Joe Marcerollo of the Royal Conservatory of Music.

Spring /74

About 300 people attended "Spring '74" - the annual spring conference of District 15 of the Ontario Horticulture Society last month at the North Campus.

For the past three years this conference has been held at Humber College and this year was the best, drawing visitors from across the province.

Excellent speakers discussed topics from vegetables to tree pruning and flower arranging to growing plants under lights. A heavy accent on practical demonstrations made the sessions most valuable.

Bob Keith, a radio gardener with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, discussed vegetable garden planning. This address won particular attention with the current popularity of home vegetable growing.

The only Humber faculty member who spoke to the conference was Richard Hook who discussed and demonstrated pruning techniques.

Much of the credit for the success of the show must go to Bob Groot, Co-ordinator of Landscape Technology, who co-ordinated the conference.

Gladiolus

Humber's North Campus was the site of the third annual Ontario Gladiolus Conference last week.

"We provided a session on the culture of gladiolus, the varieties available and how to grow them," said Bill Crowley of Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Gladiolus society. Crowley, formerly of Winnipeg, is also past president of the 1500-member North American Gladiolus Council.

The informative program included such topics as "Sizes, Colours and Varieties for 1974" and "Arranging for Home and Show."

Douglas Drewes of St. Charles, Minnesota was the chairman of the panel discussing "Growing for Pleasure and Show."

Participants also took a photographic trip around the world of gladiolus with discussions on culture, disease, arranging, exhibiting, judging, classification and hybridizing.

"I'll bet a lot of people don't know that gladiolus have the greatest range of colour and size than any other flower," said Crowley.

The conference closed with an auction of bulbs including many that had recently won international awards.

Humber Wins O.C.A.A. Mixed Curling Final

Humber College mixed Curlers won the Ontario College Athletic Association Championship in North Bay.

The Humber team compiled a five win and two loss record over the three day championship.

Humber's two defeats in the entire season, including the Southern Division play-offs were in games with Mohawk College of Hamilton and the Quebec Community Colleges.

The Mixed team was composed of:

Skip — Doug Morrison
Third — Jill Mainprize

Second — Dick Howson
Lead — Dale Carruthers

The Men's team compiled a record of three wins and four losses at North Bay, after having ended second in the Southern Division of the O.C.A.A. during the season.

The Women's team had a record of one victory and five losses at North Bay. The Humber Women's team had ended in second place in the O.C.A.A. Southern Division.

This year's play-off competition brought together teams from all divisions in the O.C.A.A.

Western Horse Show

Lorna Aylett of Fenwick, Ontario, won $105.00 by placing first in three events last Sunday at Humber College's Western Horse Show.

It was the second consecutive show at Humber in which she won the Open Barrel, Pick-Up and Girls Barrel races.

Ron Masciangelo of Hamner, near Sudbury, and Allan Garniss of Burlington each won $70.00 with two victories apiece.

Other large money winners were John Ensley, West Hill - $50.00; Dick Pieper, Stouffville - $50.00 and Bryan Robertson, Hillsbury - $30.00

More than 800 people watched the show involving about 100 competitors from across the province.

The show's biggest money winner was Jean Purdy of Woodbridge, who won $200.00 for finishing first in the Cutting Horse event.

The other event winners were Marta Godden, Uxbridge (Junior Pleasure); Donna Evans, Stevensville (Ladies Pleasure) and Cheryl Pawley, Burlington (Junior Horsemanship).

Campus Wide Paper Drive

Bell Canada says the white pages of the new 1974 telephone books are on their way to Humber.

Bob Howie, Humber's Director of Office Services, says the books should be circulated around the campuses by the middle of April.

Don't throw away the old telephone book. They'll be picked up or can be dropped at Receiving as part of Humber's Re-cycling drive of newsprint.

If you also have any old newspapers bring them along and deposit them in the containers next to the guard house.

Etobicoke Festival

Howard Lowe, chief co-ordinator of the Etobicoke Day Festival says plans are almost complete for the month-long June event.

Lowe suggested five activities for Humber. They are: having an entry in a motorcade and parade through Etobicoke, displays at Centennial Park, supplying buses to transport senior citizens, having students take photographs of events during the Festival, and supplying personnel to judge a culinary contest in which chefs from leading hotels will be contestants.

Those having other ideas should call Lowe at the Etobicoke Civic Centre, 626-4060.

Humber in Red Again

Humber College students and staff, at the rate of 50 an hour, gave blood at the recent Red Cross blood donor clinic at the North Campus.

Kathy Ingram, in charge of a 16-member staff from the Toronto head office of the Canadian Red Cross, said a record number of pints of blood were donated.

She said 325 pints were collected in less than six hours and only 34 pints were rejected.

"We really didn't expect a turnout like that," she said. "Our goal was set at 200 pints and all 28 beds were always used."

Red Cross officials indicated four types of blood were collected. They included 123 pints of O-type blood, 119 pints of A-type, 36 pints of B-type and 13 pints of AB-type.

Statistics released by the Red Cross showed the following breakdown of donors:

Cardiology

Cardiology '74 is a two-day seminar on the study of the heart that will take place at Humber College in Toronto on May 9th and 10th.

"This seminar is the first of its kind in Canada," said Marina Kilpatrick, co-ordinator of the Coronary Care Program at Humber.

The seminar offers an advanced program for nurses and is also of interest to doctors and paramedical personnel concerned with intensive coronary care. It will include lecture presentations, displays and panel discussions.

Topics for Cardiology '74 include "Future Shock" (an overview of the direction coronary care nurses are taking), "Drug Therapy" (current clinical application), "Up, Up and Away" (a look at how the intra-aortic balloon pump is used), "Live it Up Versus Give it Up" (a dynamic approach to promoting positive post cardiac attitudes) and many others.

Some of the outstanding guest speakers are Doctor Stephen Wittenberg, Department of Cardiology, Myer Memorial Hospital, Buffalo; Doctor Henry Mizgala, Department of Cardiology, Montreal General Hospital; Doctor Ken Brown and Doctor William Mahon, Toronto General Hospital and others.

Profile

Richard John Bendera became the youngest Director of Athletics and Recreation in Canada in 1972.

That's when the 26-year-old honours graduate in Physical and Health Education from the University of Toronto joined the full-time staff of Humber College.

"When I first came here I was a part-time teacher and my students included Mike Scanlan and Wayne Burgess, who work for me," said Bendera.

Bendera, born in Toronto, attended Sunnylea Public School in Etobicoke and went on to graduate from Royal York Collegiate.

He was quite actively involved in sports during secondary school.

"I was a defensive tackle on our junior football team, and I weighed 140 pounds," he said. "But the funny thing is I played senior basketball during grade 13 and had a season total of two points."

Bendera added the points came on a tip-in when everyone jumped for the ball in front of the basket and he was lucky to hit the ball last.

Bendera also played intramural hockey at high school and broke his arm.

Humber's Athletic Director was also quite involved at the University of Toronto, mixing education with managing the Blues football team from 1967-1970 to coaching the girls intramural physical education hockey team.

"The girls were one of the best groups I ever worked with and in 1970 they won the intramural championship," said Bendera.

A future in Athletics and Recreation wasn't really his goal. Bendera said during his final year in high school he wanted to be an accountant.

"I finally agreed to enter Phys Ed at the University of Toronto because I love sports," he added.

Bendera said he had to make a choice on what to do after graduation from University. He had a chance to go for his masters degree in Physical Education Administration at Springfield College in Massachusetts, teach at Humber College or enter the College of education at University of Toronto for his teaching certificate.

"I knew nothing about Humber during my final year," said Bendera. "But I heard it was a fast-growing college. So I applied."

Bendera replaced Harry Pasternak in 1972 as Director of Athletics at Humber.

Bendera was responsible for bringing in inter-collegiate sports and making Humber a member of the Ontario Colleges Athletic Association.

He also introduced an instructional activities program which had 2,000 people involved last summer and an expected 3,200 this year.

Bendera also adopted the idea of having annual athletic banquets to honour students involved in representing Humber College in sporting events.

Humber College was almost the Canadian representative in a hockey-basketball tournament last year in mainland China.

"We had established contacts with our federal government and people in China as far as sending our teams on a good-will visit last December," he said, "but the Chinese said we had asked a few months too late and their yearly visitors calendar was full. They were very nice and asked us to write again."

Bendera is working on the final negotiations on sending Humber teams to compete in a European country next December.

"Our chances are excellent! That's all I can say now," he said.

Wedding bells rang for Bendera last October when he married Leanna Wilson, Humber's former Secondary School Liaison Officer, now at Seneca College.
