September marks the beginning of a whole new decade for Humber College.

It's hard to believe that we're already celebrating our Tenth Anniversary and that Humber has progressed into a major post-secondary institution in Ontario.

Some of you who remember when the College began operations in the old James S. Bell Public School in 1967, with an enrolment of some 500 students, will know what I'm talking about when I say that Humber has really lived up to its expectations these first 10 years as truly being a "Community College".

We've led the way with community outreach programs and catered to the student, whether he or she is six months old in our day care centre or 94 in our Third Age College for senior citizens.

We've come a long way and one of the most important things to remember is that all those associated with Humber worked at it as a team.

I'd like to take this opportunity to personally say thank you to our faculty and staff for all your hard work.

Now that a new academic year is upon us we are once again facing a challenge from the community, a challenge we've been successful in living up to many times before.

I certainly hope your vacation was a good one. This will be an exciting year at Humber. We hope you'll get involved.

Sincerely,

Gordon Wragg.

HUMBER INSTRUCTOR WRITES POEM FOR ATHLETES

Clint Hall, an instructor in the Hairdressing Apprenticeship Program at Humber's Lakeshore II Campus and a well-known poet, has written a poem in honor of Canada's Olympic female athletes. Here it is:

TO OUR WOMEN ATHLETES

Canadian women,
We should hail,
De better den
De Canuck male,
You never hear dem
Cry and wail,
'Cause when de try
De seldom fail.
I 'tink tis how
De live each day
De listen to what
De coach say,
May be de guide
She female too,
And know just how
To train de few.

De girls, de mostly
Doing fine,
De strong in head
And good in line,
De dont say, 'Wait
'Till de next time,"
Der comes
A new Olympic line.
De dedicated
To each ting,
De make us proud
When we all sing,
O Canada
Lets hear it ring
To our young girls
'Fore Queen or King.

THE GREAT "WHAT'LL WE DO WITH THE HISTORIC HOUSE" CONTEST

There's an old gray farmhouse at Humber's North Campus which overlooks the Humber River and Highway 27. Built in the 1830's, it's the original homestead of one of Etobicoke's first families.

It is a solid old building with beautiful floors, walls and fireplaces. The Etobicoke Historical Board has designated it a historic site. However, years of neglect have taken their toll.

Humber will be seeking restoration grants from places like Wintario and Ontario Heritage but first we have to know "what'll we do with the historic house".

We want this to be a community project. Do you have any ideas? Send them to Steve Thomas, Development Director, North Campus, Humber College or call 676-1200, extension 553.

A Polaroid Colour Camera, recently donated to the College, will be awarded to an entry drawn at random if over 500 replies are received before October 1st, 1976.

Let's hear from you!

HUMBER HOSTS OLYMPIC EQUESTRIAN CANDIDATES

Seven young equestrians feel closer to berths on a future Olympic team after four weeks at North America's leading equine centre at Humber College.

The juniors and their horses were brought together during the summer from across Canada for instruction in riding and horse care by Rothmans of Pall Mall (Canada) Ltd.

"Look for us at the Olympics in 1980 or 1984," said Andre Bolinger, 19, of Kingston, Ont.

Others in the group were Lydia Avery, 19, of Winnipeg, Brian Ball, 21, of Lethbridge, Alta., Jan Blackhall, 19, of Langley, B.C., Michelle Hough, 19, of Saskatoon, Sask., Rob Robertson, 19, of Oakville, and David Walker, 22, of Sackville, N.S.

All have won various zone and national championships and hope to follow the lead of other Rothmans winners, four of whom are now on the Olympic jumping team.

Frank Selinger and John Simpson of Calgary, Alta., Michel Vaillancourt of Hudson, Que., and Terry Leibel of Toronto all participated in Rothman's six-year-old scholarship program.

This year there was instruction by Canada's top riders, who donated their time despite hectic preparations for the Olympics.

One of two staff veterinarians at Humber College's equine centre, Neil Mendelson, lectured on horse health, disease and lameness.

OLYMPIAN NAMED TO HEAD HUMBER PROGRAM

Elizabeth Ashton, a member of Canada's Olympic equestrian team, is the new Coordinator of Humber's unique Equine Studies Program.

Miss Ashton, who is from Orangeville, won a silver medal for Canada in the three-day event in the Pan American Games in Mexico last year.

She started riding in 1957 and entered her first international competition in 1969. Since then she has competed in more than a dozen major national and international shows.

Humber's Equine Centre consists of classrooms, a complete surgical ward, stables for 50 horses, tack room and an Olympic-size indoor arena.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

We've been informed that a former Human Studies Division instructor at Humber will be returning to Canada. Sylvia Silber will be coming back to share her increased knowledge and expertise with the Canadian people. Mrs. Silber was in Amherst, Massachusetts for the past few years. I'd like to take this opportunity to pass on the good word to all her friends and colleagues at Humber.

Yours sincerely,
Gordon Wragg,
President

TO THE EDITOR:

The Board of Governors, at its regular June meeting, has asked me to convey to Humber College employees, their gratitude and thanks for the fine effort of the college in conducting Convocation ceremonies for such a large number of Humber graduates.

It is appreciated that no public effort of such magnitude can be carried out without a great deal of unstinting service on the part of a large number of employees. It is gratifying to us to realize that Humber College employees enthusiastically work for and promote the interests of the college. We are indeed grateful for the kind of enthusiastic effort that so many of you have shown in the recent Convocation ceremonies.

Yours sincerely,
Don A. White
Chairman of the Board of Governors

TO THE EDITOR:

After a Japanese trade show "International Restaurant Fair" held in Tokyo, it was recognized that we in North America are more advanced in our mass or school feeding programmes. We, at Garland, being a major exporter of commercial cooking equipment were asked by the Canadian Government, Mr. G. Cosgrove, Publicity Officer, Office of Information and Public Relations, I.T.C. Ottawa, to assist the Japanese government in preparing a feature article in a Japanese food magazine called "School Lunch Journal."

The selection of Humber College was the easiest part of this project due to the past co-operation we, at Garland have received from your Mr. Igor Sokur, Co-ordinator of the Hotel and Restaurant Management Program. Having visited Humber so often and seeing the different methods and types of food preparation and the close proximity to our new plant made your College the natural choice.

The full page story and photos appeared in the magazine this summer. Thank you for all your help.

Yours very truly,
Stan Ray
Manager - Special Projects
Garland Commercial Ranges Ltd.

HOW ABOUT A TENTH ANNIVERSARY TUNE-UP?

If you're having trouble getting things in gear, rev your engines and try our new Vita Parcours.

This jogging and exercise track winds through the vegetative valhalla provided by our arboretum for more than a mile.

Watch for the official opening of this and many other special events as they are launched to celebrate our Tenth Anniversary.

Your participation will make this the biggest and best celebration in our history.

TO THE EDITOR:

As part of our 10th Anniversary Celebrations I would like to see the word "just", in the sense of its meaning only or merely, removed from Humber College's staff vocabulary. During the last eight years I have heard the expression "just a secretary", "just a clerk", etc., at least a thousand times and each time I shudder with distaste. I now reach the paranoid state whenever I hear this nasty word coupled with secretary or clerk or any other people at Humber who have "just" in front of their classifications - which clearly stamps them as underlings?

A person can be mediocre, good, excellent - but please, not 'just'.

By no stretch of the imagination would I say that we at Humber share equal responsibilities or accountabilities but if we are expected to work together for the common good of the College - let's start by getting off our individual ego trips and begin treating each other with equal respect simply because "We are all just human beings."

PRESIDENTS BOOK CLUB

Have any suggestions regarding themes, topics, speakers, panels, films, etc., for the 1976-77 program of the President's Book Club?

Subjects should deal with relevant issues or concerns of interest to Humber faculty and staff. Books preferred are those in paperback. Special guests and speakers deal with the subject of the book selected.

The President's Book Club is open to any faculty or staff member at Humber. Contact the Office of the President for more information.

The first session is planned for the evening of Tuesday, October 5th, 1976. The topic will be "Mankind at the Turning Point." Copies of the book are available in the Bookstore.

McGUIRE GALLERY BECOMES PHOTOGRAPHY STUDIO

The need for classroom space at the North Campus of Humber College has resulted in the closure of the McGuire Art Gallery.

HAPPENINGS IN HEALTH SCIENCES

Approval has been received to increase the enrolment in Humber's Pharmacy Assistant Program by 20 students according to Jack Buckley, Chairman of Humber's Allied Health Programs.

The total yearly enrolment is now 60. The increase has resulted in the full-time appointment of instructor Audrey Myers, who is a graduate of the Humber program. Mrs. Myers was recently employed in the Pharmacy Department at the Etobicoke General Hospital.

Marg Kehoe has transferred from the Nursing faculty at Osler to a teacher in Bioscience.

Doug Leonard, who was employed in the ambulance service of the Royal Victoria Hospital in Barrie, replaces Mariano Alves who is on leave of absence to take a Masters Degree Program. Leonard will be assisting Bill Magill in the Ambulance and Emergency Care Program. Magill will be acting Co-ordinator for the year.

The new science laboratory is open on the fourth floor of the H Building at the North Campus and the Restorative Art laboratory of the Funeral Service Education program has undergone a few renovations.

CHANGE IN OFFICE

We've moved!

The Office of College Relations and the Development Department have moved their offices from next to the Staff Lounge to the former Pro Dev Offices in the F Block or upstairs from the Humber College Developmental Centre. All phone numbers remain the same so keep calling.

Moving into K218 is the Director of Student and Educational Services and the Pro Dev Staff.

HUMBER STUDENTS NEED HOUSING

Between 1,500 and 2,000 students attending Humber this year were without housing accommodation five weeks ago. "The figure is now less than half of that," said June Burch of Humber's Housing Office. "But rates for rooms are up over last year by at least $10.00 and there aren't that many places available."

Humber's courses attract many students from outside Metro Toronto.

Anyone having an extra room, flat or basement apartment available for rent to students are asked to call Humber's Housing Office at 676-1200, extension 535.

HUMBER EXPECTS RECORD YEAR

With enrolment figures up 43 per cent over last year, Humber College of Applied Arts and Technology expects 1976 to be a record year.

Last year Humber received a record 12,000 applications for admission to arts and technology courses on a full-time basis.

With a projected enrolment figure set at approximately 7,100 for 1976-77 programs beginning this fall, college spokesman Phil Karpetz expects no cutback in applications.

"The number of applications received to date represents a 43 per cent increase over last year in first-choice selections by students as to which place they would like to continue their education," he said.

With the increased enrolment, Karpetz anticipates more students will take technology courses at Humber than ever before.

HUMBER'S SUMMER GYMNASTS PERFORM AT POLICE GAMES

A team of boys who attended Humber Colleges summer gymnastics camp at the Lakeshore I Campus got an opportunity to show off their skills when they put on a demonstration at the annual Metro Police Games.

The boys, who were between the ages of 10 and 16, were coached by Eugene Galperin, former coach of the Soviet Olympic gymnastic team who's now on the staff of Humber College.

Most of the same group took part in another demonstration at Nathan Phillips Square in Toronto during Olympic Week.

Humber Staff Speak Out

QUESTION: Do you feel the Olympics are necessary?

"Of course they are not 'necessary'. They are highly desirable provided they are conducted in the manner intended for the modern Olympics by their French founder in 1896, namely to develop through sports and international comradeship among athletes. The intervention into the affairs of the Olympics by Governments is deplorable, depriving the individual athlete of his rightful opportunity to demonstrate his prowess before the world, and creating seeds of international friction - which is the direct contradiction of the purpose of the Games. A further point is that the Games, as presently organized are enormously costly to the host country. There is some merit therefore in the idea being put forward by Greece that that country should be the permanent host, supported by international funds. Television by satellite will ensure that all the world could see them."

Marnie McAlpine
Residence Manager
Osler Campus

Yes. The Olympic Games are a great public event. Just because they are over for this year we should right now start training for the 1980 Games in Moscow. In order to do this, money and government support is needed.

Eugene Galperin
Gymnastics Instructor
Lakeshore I Campus

"Realistically there is both an affirmative and negative viewpoint to the question.

The negative side primarily evolves around the justification of expenses and whether or not this type of expense is a national priority.

However, the results of a positive viewpoint are numerous, with no immediate dollar value being attached. A prime result of the Olympics has been a renewed interest in sport by individuals at both the spectator and participant level. Through the Olympics and as a result of the Olympics, no matter what level of competition, definite positive social and health benefits will be derived. A perfect example of this has to be the achievements of the East German team and their effect on the total nation, beyond the winning of medals."

Rick Bendera
Co-ordinator of Athletics
North Campus

"Yes. It's good to have them because Canada is more exposed to the world and it's nice to know that we've won the largest number of medals ever right here in Canada."

Susan Frustaci
Secretary
Humber York Centre

"Yes, they are worthwhile providing they can be more athletic and less political. I'd also like to see the Olympics hosted on a permanent basis in Greece with participating countries contributing to one international training fund."

Doris Tallon
Assistant to the President
North Campus

"Yes, I see the Olympics as mankind's playground - a place where the sports-people of the world can come together and enjoy themselves through the spirit of competition. On an individual level it enables an athlete to aspire to his maximum potential. However, on a national level the Olympics has become a tool or a show place to show that one political system is better than another, this type of showcase I totally disagree with. The Olympics is about amateur sports people - not politics."

LIBRARY NEEDS YOUR HELP

You are part of the Humber College Community. Our community is composed of students, faculty, staff, alumni, advisory committees and everyone who has something to do with Humber.

The College's Library-Resource-Centres house a multimedia collection of resources to stimulate, supplement and assist the learning process. The L.R.C. which has steadily been building its collection in order to serve all areas of the Humber community is now looking to you to help celebrate the 10th Anniversary Year and further develop our resources.

To commemorate this special year, a donation program has been established to encourage you to share with the rest of the Humber community any special educational resources or materials you have. Many interesting, unique and useful books and audio-visual materials may be gathering dust on your shelf while they could be playing an active role in Humber's educational process as part of the collection in the L.R.C.

A number of Humber staff and faculty have already donated considerable collections of material to the Library-Resource-Centre in specific areas. However, during the 10th Anniversary Year, all such donations, and material purchased with donated funds, receive a book-plate to indicate that the item was received during the 10th Anniversary Year and give the name of the donor, unless otherwise requested. A copy of the book-plate is seen at right.

recipe of the month

Igor Sokur, Co-ordinator of the Hotel and Restaurant Management Program at Humber, has received more than 100 international and national awards.

LEARNING RESOURCES CENTRE

Notice a new facility on the third floor of "E" Block? It's Humber College's NORTH CAMPUS LEARNING RESOURCE CENTRE.

Many of the facilities that faculty used in the former Instructional Materials Centre area on the first floor of the Fieldhouse have been transferred here. They include Media Booking, Equipment Booking, and Audio-Visual Equipment Maintenance.

Across the hall from the L.R.C. Media and Equipment Booking area is the Resource Centre which has seating for approximately 114 students, faculty and staff. The physical facilities previously provided by the Health Science Resource Centre are included in this space. New services include five individual small-group viewing areas for 16 mm projectors and RF playback units, plus numerous wired carrels for in-house use of software. The small screening room can be booked by faculty for previewing films/videotapes or for seminars.

Existing library facilities combined in this area include periodicals, microfilm, cassettes, records, listening facilities, filmstrips, film loops and book-room materials.

In rooms E302 and E303, is the Computer-assisted Instructional Laboratory which will be accessed especially by students in the Business and Technology Divisions.

GORDON WRAGG

Profile

ETHEL MILKOVITS

At the age of five, Ethel Milkovits wouldn't play school with her friends unless she was the teacher.

Today, at the age of ...well... Ethel Milkovits is doing what she has always wanted to do - teach. She is Senior Program Coordinator at Humber Lakeshore.

Mrs. Milkovits was born in Wainfleet, Ontario and went to elementary and secondary school in nearby Welland.

After World War II, the Hungarian Government offered scholarships to children of parents with Hungarian background. It was then that Ethel decided to go to Europe.

She attended the University of Budapest in Hungary on a foreign student scholarship and received her honors Bachelor of Arts Degree. Ethel lived in Hungary for nine years and also married there. She taught English and Russian in high school for two years.

Mrs. Milkovits eventually returned to Canada only to make her home in Windsor. She attended Hamilton Teachers College for one year to obtain her teaching license and was on the staff of the Hamilton Separate School Board for two years, the last one as acting Principal.

Port Credit was her next home. She changed jobs and taught for the South Peel Board of Education for four years as a junior high school instructor in home economics.

Ethel taught English as a Second Language, academic upgrading and apprenticeship during the evening for the Lakeshore Board of Education.

It wasn't long before Lakeshore amalgamated with Etobicoke and her teaching became day and night duties. One year later, 1968, Humber College took over the Retraining Division.

At Humber, Ethel was a librarian and teacher. In 1975 she was appointed Senior Coordinator. In her 10 years with Humber, Ethel points out that she taught at the North Campus for only one year.

In her spare time, Ethel enjoys sewing, reading, cooking and travelling. She's been to Mexico, Spain, Italy, Western Europe, Central America and, of course, Hungary.

Mrs. Milkovits is also a horoscope watcher and being a Leo she likes challenges.

"I'm also one of the few fortunate people who can say 'I've got a job I love.'"

RUDOLPH (RUDIE) JANSEN

Rudolph (Rudie) Jansen, a member of the Humber College faculty since the College opened in 1967, died on July 6, 1976 at his home in Bolton.

Jansen was born in Holland in December 1930 and was raised in The Hague. He went to school in Holland and graduated from the Teachers College in The Hague. After attending the University of Leiden and the University of Utrecht where he specialized in biological science, Jansen received his Bachelor of Arts in mathematics and physics from Maercant Lyceum College in Holland.

Jansen was an inspector, supervisor and manager with a retail credit company from 1959-60 and from 1963-66.

Teaching was his main goal and he did just that in at least five cities. In 1960, Jansen taught for one year at Thorold District High School and in 1961 joined the Toronto Board of Education as a teacher at Western Technical High School. He taught from 1966-67 at the Adult Education Centre in Oshawa and was also a supply teacher with the York Central and Aurora District High School Boards.

In 1967, Jansen was one of the first group of faculty to join Humber College in Toronto. He became a teaching Master in mathematics in the College's Technology Division and later taught various levels of micro-biology. Jansen would have been one of 25 faculty and staff celebrating their 10th Anniversary with Humber in September.

This past year, he was also President of the Ontario Public Service Employees Union (OPSEU) - Humber Branch - for faculty at the College. Jansen was fluent in three languages, English, Dutch and Swedish and was also a Canadian citizen. He leaves his wife Maryke and five children.

RUDI JANSEN MEMORIAL FUND

An ad hoc committee made up of Steve Thomas, Development Director; David Jones representing OPSEU Academic Local 562; and Mike Lake representing the Technology Division has been established to raise money for a Rudi Jansen Memorial Fund.

The Committee will also be pleased to receive any suggestions on how it is to be spent. One of these that has been made several times is an entrance bursary operating on the interest of the fund.

As of the end of August, $320 has been raised from the College community for the fund. The OPSEU Academic Local 532 executive will be asked to endorse a donation of $500 at their September meeting, and the Technology division is discussing a joint effort.

Friends and colleagues of the late Rudi Jansen are urged to send their suggestions for the fund along with their donation to Steve Thomas, Development Director as soon as possible. It would be appropriate if the first award could be presented on Awards Night in October.

HUMBER SEEKS ALUMNI

Humber College in Toronto is searching for its alumni. Humber, one of Ontario's largest Community Colleges, would like to hear from students who have graduated. An Alumni Association is being formed by the College during its 10th Anniversary year which begins in September.

So far, the response has been good. Replies from an initial survey have come from some 1,000 grads all over the country.

Humber's Alumni Association will include regular communication via newsletters as well as a series of annual special events and activities.

All Humber College grads are asked to write David Grossman, Director of College Relations, Humber College, P.O. Box 1900, Rexdale, Ontario M9W 5L7, or call (416) 676-1200, extension 554.

Know of any grads?

PARKING COSTS MONEY

Free parking at Humber College ended in August.

The College hopes to make about $138,000 a year by charging students, faculty, staff and visitors to use its 3,500 parking slots.

Jim Davison, Executive Vice-President, said Humber's Board of Governors instituted the fees because "the province is no longer supporting parking. It has to become self-supporting."

"They supported it before because there was little access to Humber through mass transit, but now that people can get here by bus, the province has told us it's up to us to take care of our parking lots."

Faculty and staff at Humber who want reserved parking for the entire school year will pay $100. Others will pay $60 for non reserved parking.

Students wanting reserved parking places will pay $80 a year or $40 per semester. Non-reserved parking will cost $20 per semester.

Visitors will pay 50 cents a day, 25 cents in the evening.

More than 200 staff and faculty members have already signed up for reserved parking.

Davison said upkeep on the parking lots is about $33,000 a year, but added that more than $164,000 will be spent on capital construction over the next two years "and we have to pay our capital costs out of revenue as well as our operating costs."

Masterpieces of International Cuisine

The irresistible appeal of foods from some of the great cuisines of Europe will be demonstrated with masterly skill in a special new Tuesday evening series to be presented this Fall in the Toronto Blue Flame Room of the Consumers' Gas Company.

The series, sponsored by the Consumers, Gas Company for Humber College, will take place on October 5, 12, 19, 26, and November 2, at 7:30 pm each evening.

The International evenings will feature foods of France, Austria, Italy and Belgium. Canadian cooking will share the spotlight with one evening donated to great Canadian foods. Demonstrating the secrets of fine cooking will be Igor Sokur, distinguished Master Chef and Senior Coordinator of the Humber College Hotel and Restaurant Management Program. Mr. Sokur is an international award winner and has received numerous special honors.

On each of the evenings, wines of each country will be discussed and in some cases, used in the preparation of certain food dishes.

There will also be a major door prize consisting of a first class trip for two to Brussels, the capital of Europe, via Sabena, Belgian World Airlines. Additional prizes include weekends for two at major local hotels and dinners for two at some of Toronto's finest restaurants.

Tickets are $30 for this special series of five evenings. No individual evening tickets will be sold. Proceeds go to Humber College's Complex 5 building program - a fund for the expansion of the College's facilities for athletics, fitness and management seminars.

International evenings in the past have sold out very quickly. It's wise to order tickets well in advance. For more information and tickets call 676-1200, and ask for "Masterpieces".
