A VOICE FOR ALL STUDENTS

Firebug hits Humber!

Damages are set at $250,000

Metropolitan Police and Fire Department officials are still trying to find the arsonist who struck Humber four times over the summer break.

The fires did about $250,000 damage and had College employees continually on edge between May 20 and June 15.

According to a fire report from the office of Harry Edmunds, director of physical resources the first fire, in the fieldhouse, was well underway at 4:00 p.m. Sunday May 20 and by 5:45 p.m. the fire had been extinguished.

After examining the damage and questionning witnesses Fire Marshals designated the fire "undetermined in origin".

The damage in the first fire was estimated at $215,000 plus another $50,000 to $100,000 in cleanup expenses.

Most of the damage was concentrated in the north-east section of the second floor. There was considerable damage to the roof decking and support trusses in the halls.

Doug Knapp, a college employee, was working in the I.M.C. darkroom below the fire area. Mr. Knapp said when he was alerted he ran into the hall which was thick with smoke. He said he could hear the flames above running down the hall and the ceiling was rippling in the heat. According to Mr. Knapp he and another witness pulled four fire alarms before one sounded. When he finally found one that worked they fled from the building.

Emergency repairs were begun almost immediately and by the 24 of May plans were underway for reconstruction.

There were three subsequent fires in the next few weeks. One fire in the combined classrooms B300 and B302 did $3,000 damage. The fire was todial services.

See Fire Strikes pg. 2

Fire investigators were confused by the amount of fire damage in the fieldhouse. The fieldhouse was supposed to be a low fire risk area.

The majority of housing listings are for room and board, some of which are "exorbitant", according to Ms. Earlix, with a few apartments, no houses and few flats. "The problem is everyone wants something close as across the street," Ms. Earlix continued.

In order to combat the shortage, Osler School of Nursing is again offering Humber room for 50 female students, available at Osler rates. As well, York University has set aside 44 beds for Humber students, male or female, which can be obtained by students having enough money to pay for them. The price for a double room is $615, with a single going for $740, but in order to live there, you must also eat there. Students must purchase

This is not intended to be the normal, run-of-themill "Welcome To Our Wonderful College, With All Its Wonderful Staff, Faculty and Administrators' Message. It may even sound somewhat cynical. Perhaps this is due to some extent to the fact that I have attended this college for two years, one of which I was involved with the Student Union and have experienced first hand, the mixed reactions of students toward their union.

I do not feel especially pleased to be the President of a union which has developed an image with its students, as this one has achieved to date. This is not to say that any other student government in the province has achieved any better relationship with its students.

The point I am attempting to make is this: If you as a student do not want a union or any of the services we can and do provide come and tell us, on the other hand, if you feel that a Student Union can be beneficial, then get behind us and let's make things happen!

You are required by the Board of Governors of Humber College to pay a $35.00 Incidental Fee, of which the Students Union gets 58% ($20.30).

With this money your union provides you with: free movies, pubs, wine and cheese parties, a literary magazine, Student Lounge, equipped with a fantastic Sound System ($4,000), Student Handbook, guest speakers, concerts, information services, clubs It was felt at one time that the fires may have been free meetings, representation in academic or other set just to cause a nuisance and the first fire got problem areas, a student newspaper, plus much out of hand. more.

For the future, we are now working on the following: student centre, xerox photo-copying centre, typing service, games room, (pool tables and ping-pong tables) and more.

We will be approaching you, specifically pertaining to a couple of matters directly affecting all of you, and in an attempt to reach and involve more and more students at this college as time goes on.

We welcome your imput in the form of ideas, uggestions and complaints, or any matter, in order Lat we may better serve YOU.

Please feel free to drop in and see me or any other union officer at any time, on the third floor of the Phase 4A building.

My sincere best wishes for a productive, rewarding and enjoyable stay at Humber College.

Yours sincerely, Neil Towers

S.A.M.

Working together with the Athletic and Recreation Department, the Student Athletic Movement provides an opportunity for every eligible student enrolled at Humber College to participate in organized physical activities. Specifically S.A.M. assists in the promotion, development, and organization of club activities, intramural sports and varsity athletics at Humber.

During the coming 73-74 season, S.A.M. will try hard to satisfy the many varied physical needs and interests of Humber Students. However, to run programs we must have participation and involvements from the student body. So if you want your money's worth of the activity fee, come out and get involved.

Sincerely,

Alan loi President, Student Athletic Movement

not altogether accurate. He hopes it will be more allowing no escape. than traditional lectures. Mr. Nickson sees workshops, seminars and presentations of all sorts being included.

The SU contacted one firm that books speakers for college tours but other than booking jazz artist Don Ellis for a concert nothing was accomplished.

Mr. Nickson explained that there is a question of booking well known speakers or unknown speakers tied to important issues.

The SU is looking into the possibility of having an educational network or a cable company come and tape the sessions for tv.

officer said the first fire had investigators confused because the fieldhouse was a low risk area, yet there was so much damage. Tests of the debris explained why; the carpets in the fieldhouse were fire rated several years ago when, according to Mr. Millard, the ratings were not as strict as they are now. When the carpets are exposed to heat over 400 degrees F they burst into flames of temperatures over 1000 degrees F.

Mr. Millard also said the fire alarms that did not sound had fused in the heat. The alarms have now been altered to avoid such a re-occurence and all carpeting similar to that in the fire area is being replaced.

Mr. Millard wished to emphasize the safety aspect of the first fire. He said college officials and Keith Nickson, SU vice-president, said the SU has students alike have taken for granted the safety of been doing what past unions did for to long, the school in case of fire. According to Mr. Millard, there is a need to add some vitality into the if there had been classes in the fieldhouse at the time of the fire they would have been wiped out Mr. Nickson said the term "speakers bureau" is because the halls would have been an inferno

Busing

Humber College has added two new bus routes this year bringing the total number of routes to 14.

The two new routes are to and from Malton. College busing is paid for by the Student Affairs Committee which allocated 7% of this years student activity fee to the service and by fares paid by students.

Bus passes cost $20. per semester or 25¢ per ride. Information on routes and schedules can be obtained from the student services offices, financial services and the College switchboard.

College plans ice arena

Even though students voted last year 2 to 1 against building an ice arena the college is going ahead with plans to build one.

Harry Edmunds, director of physical resources explained the College's actions. Mr. Edmunds said the questionnaire which was sent to Humber students asking for their choice of an ice arena, a student centre or an athletics and recreational fieldhouse and their choice in financing the project preceded a report from Allward and Guinlock, the architectural firm employed by the college.

The report says the fieldhouse, the building that sustained the most fire damage over the summer, would provide all, the space necessary for both a student centre and athletic and recreational facilities.

Therefore, according to Mr. Edmunds, the college has the necessary facilities already and can move on to provide new facilities for the student body.

Mr. Edmunds said there would be an added advantage in using an existing structure for a student centre and athletic facilities — it would cost the students less than it would to erect a completely new building and the cost would not only be less for building but there would be no land costs and a reduced designing fee.

SU started year $17,000 in debt

Because of budget hassles and overspending last year this year's SU started its administration almost $17,000 in debt.

SU vice-president Keith Nickson said there were a number of reasons for the problems.

First of all there were $7,000 worth of unpaid bills left over from last year which had to be paid in this year's SU's first week of office. That along with $10,000 owing for rent of the new SU lounge was paid by Student Affairs Committee treasurer Laurie Sleith from the SU surplus account.

Mr. Nickson said in some cases last year's administration couldn't pay because the bills didn't arrive at the College until after they left office and with enrolment lower than was expected last year their budget was cutback.

However, according to Mr. Nickson, near the end of last year former SU president Ferguson Mobbs and SU business manager Peter Hyne were simply refusing to sign cheques to bay bills.

In order to ride out the storm the SU has been forced to make cut backs.

There will be only one free movie a week this year, there were three last year, and the SU has dropped out of the Association of Community College Students' Councils. These two moves will save the SU about $3,100. The Union also managed to talk the College into paying for $5,000 of furniture in the SU lounge and with the resignation of last year's SU business manager the SU has saved an additional $8,000.

Therefore the SU has managed to save almost $16,100 in all.

However, only five of Ontario's 22 community colleges belonged to the A.C.C.S.C.

Those five, which include Humber, paid $1,100 a year to belong. Keith Nickson, SU vice-president, said Humber just wasn't getting its money's worth out of the association.

Mr. Nickson explained that if the association lowered its fees and got more colleges involved The Student Union's handbook is going to be To keep everyone honest students will have to worked before according to Mr. Nickson, was to near future. have the larger colleges carry the financial burden for the others and Humber is no longer prepared to do that.

Course reps for SU

The Student Union is considering a move that would increase the input of students into the SU.

The plan is to create representatives for each course in the College. Currently representation stops at the division level.

SU vice-president Keith Nickson said the division representatives don't really have good contact with the students they represent because of the number of students they represent.

The change in structure to add course representatives would have to be ratified by the Student Affairs Committee of which the SU is a subcommittee.

Also under consideration is a plan which would make the SU secretary's position an appointed one.

The SU would hire a secretarial student to do the job and pay her the honourarium currently paid an elected secretary.
