LAKESHORE HAPPENINGS

Humber's Lakeshore I Campus hosted a Welding Seminar for the Canadian Welding Society in April which proved to be a very successful event.

A week-end seminar was also held in Chasing and Repousse for the Metal Arts Guild of Ontario. The seminar was publicized across the Province through the Metal Arts Guild as well as the Canadian Crafts Council publication.

Lakeshore recently offered the Ontario Gymnastic Federation Achievement Award program to all elementary school children. The program was run under the direction of former Soviet National Gymnastics coach Eugene Galperin on Thursday evenings from April to mid June.

Humber Lakeshore's first convocation for Post-Secondary students was held in May.

Marketing students at Humber's Lakeshore I Campus recently received an award of a Colour Television set for completing a research project for the Toronto Dominion Bank. Lakeshore will be holding a Gymnastics Summer Camp directed by Eugene Galperin from June 28 to July 16 and August 2 through August 20.

PROGRAM HELPS PERSONS OVERCOME JOB HANDICAP

Given the choice of hiring one of two men with the same qualifications, but one having a criminal record, many employers will not choose the latter.

Basic Job Readiness Training (BJRT), a Canada Manpower program conducted by Humber College prepares adults to cope successfully with this and other situations, secure employment or obtain further skilled or academic training.

People with social problems, criminal records or maladjustments are referred to the BJRT program from agencies such as Alcoholics Anonymous and the Addiction Research Foundation.

St. Margaret's Anglican Church in Etobicoke was chosen over a Humber campus for the location of the daily classes. "It has a less threatening environment," says Cindy Niemi, a BJRT instructor.

'Someone coming out of prison or someone who really lacks self-confidence will feel less threatened here than at a big institution.'

A maximum of 20 people are enrolled in the program, which lasts from 16 to 20 weeks.

HUMBER TRANSPORTATION AWARDS

The fleet of Humber buses, station wagons and vans taking people to and from the College and making numerous deliveries are always seen but we never hear of the drivers.

"We have the best drivers, the safest vehicles and are always concerned about doing the best possible job, so no one ever hears about us," said Don McLean, Director of Transportation Services at Humber.

And McLean is right.

Two drivers, Joe Miceli and Bert Pyle, recently received Safe Driver Awards presented by McLean on behalf of the Ontario Safety League for 27 consecutive years without an accident. And they aren't the only award winners.

Bill Obelnicki for 23 years safe driving; Terry McCarthy for 18 years; Doug Hughes, Jack Nicklin and Jim MacNeil each for 12 years and Bob Corbeil for nine years.

JOB DOWN, EMPLOYERS VISITS UP

The number of jobs awaiting graduating students of Humber may be lower than last year but the number of companies interviewing students on Campus has increased.

Ruth Matheson, Director of Career Planning and Placement, said more than 150 employers have been on campus in the past four months to interview some 1,400 students.

"That's a 68% increase over last year," she said. "They've come from places like the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Xerox, Gulf Oil, National Cash Register and the Federal Government."

NURSING APPOINTMENT AT QUO VADIS

Theresa Maurice has been appointed Acting Director of the Nursing Diploma Program at Humber's Quo Vadis Campus.

Miss Maurice has been associated with the Quo Vadis Nursing Diploma Program since its inception and has functioned as teacher, assistant director, senior program co-ordinator and counselling and testing co-ordinator.

She will mainly be responsible for the Quo Vadis Nursing Diploma Program, to provide leadership in implementing the common nursing diploma curriculum at the Campus and to supervise the teaching/learning process.

Miss Maurice will replace Margaret Mackenzie who retires this summer.

SUMMER BUS TRANSPORTATION

Don McLean, Manager of Transportation at Humber, says Summer Bus Transportation will have new routes and times for June, July and August.

A bus will leave the Islington Subway Station for the North Campus, Mondays through Fridays, at 8:00 a.m. The bus will make the return trip leaving Humber at 4:40 p.m.

The evening run from Monday through Thursday departs from the Islington Subway Station to the North Campus at 6:20 p.m. and leaves the North at 10:15 p.m.

Bus tickets can be purchased at the North Campus Bookstore.

MALE SWITCHBOARD OPERATOR

Larry Phillips became Humber's first male switchboard operator when he joined the staff early in June.

Phillips a graduate of West Humber Collegiate, says he's received all kinds of enquiries from people at the other end of the telephone.

"I've received comments like 'Oh, it's a man', to things like 'We expected to hear a woman but it's so nice to hear a man's voice'," he said.

STUDENT AFFAIRS CO-ORDINATOR AT HUMBER

Stapinski was born in Ridgetown, Ontario and went to elementary and secondary school there before attending the University of Windsor.

He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology and worked as the Director of Government Youth Hostels in Windsor for two years.

Stapinski returned to school and obtained his Bachelor of Education degree before teaching grade eight for two years in Windsor and Mississauga.

In his new job at Humber, Stapinski will work with the Student Union both assisting and advising them in their special activities and daily events.

HUMBER AND THE MORRISONS

Humber College Hawks, Ontario Colleges Athletic Association Southern Division hockey champions, are certainly thanking Mom and Dad Morrison for fostering not one but three sons and sending them to College together.

Bill, Tom and Tim Morrison, who are from Bracebridge, played a major role in leading Humber to its first Provincial title in 10 years.

Bill, the oldest, was drafted by the Toronto Marlies and later tried out with Syracuse of the Eastern Hockey League before coming to Humber. Bill scored more than 60 points this year for Humber.

Tom is a defenseman and tried out with the St. Thomas Junior A team while Tim was the goal tender in the family and had tryouts with St. Catharines of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A team and Buffalo of the Tier two Junior A league.

Tom was Humber's top goal-scoring defenseman until he was hurt with a badly sprained ankle. Tim, the youngest, was the best goalkeeper in the league with a 2.5 goals against average.

HUMBER INSTRUCTOR SAYS THERE'S NOTHING LIKE ACHIEVEMENT

Frank Whittam, a member of Humber's Business Division Management Studies faculty, has written a book dealing with "Achievement in the Organization".

Whittam, who has been at Humber since 1970, spent 32 years in jobs ranging from a clerk and a pilot to a bricklayer and an engineer.

His new book, titled "DINTO", looks at motivation in a manner best described by the subtitle of the book, "Looking up the Whole of the Organization from Down Below."

For a copy of the book and more information call him at 676-1200, extension 373.

CPGA PLANS COURSE AT HUMBER

Some prospective golf pros will have an opportunity to take an intensive course in the basics of professional golf while attending Humber College.

That's the word from Eric Munding, Dean of Business at Humber, who along with Ric Janes, head of education for the Canadian Professional Golf Association, who were instrumental in arranging the course.

In a move to further upgrade the standard of the club professional in Canada, the CPGA has come to an agreement with Humber to operate a course in golf management.

In designing the course, the two observed a similar program at Ferris State College in Michigan.

"We feel Humber can offer a complete and intensive two-year program," said Munding.

Thirty per cent of the studies by the students will be general courses such as English, Math, Humanities and Economics. Forty five will be from the Business Division and the remaining 25 per cent will be golf and recreation oriented.

The CPGA plans to set up an advisory committee for the courses. It would include representatives from manufacturers, the media and CPGA. The committee's function would be to organize and run seminars.

The classes will run from about mid-October to mid-April at Humber's North Campus in Rexdale. Entrance requirements for this course are expected to be high school graduation with at least a C average, playing ability, an on-campus interview and two years' experience in golf club or course management.

Humber will be the only post-secondary institution in Canada to have this unique program. Call 676-1200, extension 257 for more information.

HUMBER HELPS SHERIDAN

Humber College has found a new way to win over their hockey rival Sheridan College . . . they're sending them to Austria this winter.

Meanwhile, Humber will be enjoying the hospitality of Switzerland.

"The choice was ours", said Rick Bendera, Director of Athletics. "We selected Switzerland and gave the Austrian trip to Sheridan."

The Humber team will be leaving on Boxing Day and play in a club tournament before meeting teams from the Swiss National A Division.

The last time Humber was in Switzerland, the Hawks won three games and tied another against the teams from which the Swiss national team is selected.

Humber won the Ontario Colleges Athletics Association Southern Division hockey title this season for the first time in ten years.

Barbara Willis of Etobicoke was a double winner of awards in the Humber College Radio Broadcasting course. She was chosen both top first-year student and top first-year female student. Here four of the Mentors, a group of professional radio women who act as big sisters to female students in the radio course, are seen with Barbara as she receives one of her awards. From left: Dory Trowell, CHUM Ltd.; Betty Scott, CHFI; Judy Casselman, Canadian Programming Services; Phil Stone, Radio Broadcasting Course Director; Barbara Willis, and Pat Young, until recently Public Relations Director, CTV. Miss Young resigned to return to her native England.

Phil Stone, Director of the Humber Radio Broadcasting Program, also announced the winners of the Howe Advertising Ltd. awards for top copywriter in each of the course's three years. Norman also wins $50 from the ad agency as top third year writer; Rick Barrett of Weston was awarded $30 for leading second year student and Stewart Cleland of Toronto won $20 for heading first year.

The awards were presented at Humber in May prior to the Spring meeting of the Radio Advisory Committee.

ALL RADIO GRADUATES GET JOBS

It's happened again!

Phil Stone, Director of the unique three-year Radio Broadcasting course at Humber reports that for the third consecutive year all graduating students have been placed in jobs.

Recently, Trevor Smith joined the production department of Brampton's CHIC Radio and Don Tersigni is on the news team at CKTB Radio in St. Catharines.

Others already placed, are Earl Sky in news at CHIC; Ron Bruchal on the announcing staff at Wingham's CKNX Radio; Barbara Willis in the Public Relations department at CTV; David Barker with the Radio Bureau of Canada; Chris Gaylor with the CKEY Radio news team; John Harras and Peter Tokar, both with the production department at CFRB Radio; and CHIN Radio news reporters Lauren Pearce and Vida Barakauskas.

HUMBER GRAD REPRESENTS METRO POLICE FORCE

Dolly Guadagno, a graduate of Humber's Law Enforcement Program in 1975 and now employed by the Metro Toronto Police Force, was selected to represent the Force at the recent "Police Week" display at Sherway Gardens.

INDUSTRY AWARDS HUMBER RADIO STUDENTS

Jim Norman of Toronto, a graduating student in the Humber College Radio Broadcasting course, and already working with radio station CHFI in Toronto as a copy writer, has won the CHUM Limited $100 award as the top student in the third year of the Humber Program. Jan Vanderhorst of Rexdale, who is now an announcer with CJSL, Estevan, Saskatchewan, was selected top student in the second year and will receive the $75 award from CHIN Radio Ltd. The first year winner of the Canadian Program Services $50 award is Barbara Willis.

HUMBER'S 1976 MUSIC SCHOLARSHIPS

Four of the 10 awards, each valued at $195.00 covering one semester tuition and lab fees, were from the North Toronto Borough.

The Toronto Musicians Association awarded two scholarships. One to the most improved student on bass, won by Michael Farquharson of Willowdale, and the other for the best jazz musician won by Willowdale's Tony Zorzi. Ernie Pattison of North York won the Brass scholarship for the most outstanding student on brass.

Peter Coulman of North York won the Duke Ellington Memorial Scholarship for best arranging.

The other six awards went to Humber music students who came from Port Dover, Ottawa, Sarnia, London, Midland and Lethbridge, Alberta.

Mark Hukazalie of Port Dover received the Long and McQuade Music Company Award for compiling the best grade point average in piano. The Bobby Edwards Guitar Scholarship of the student who shows most improvement in guitar was won by Paul Wickware of Ottawa.

Sarnia's Steven Hunter won the Keyboard Scholarship which was donated by various professionals and John Brownell of Midland was awarded the Percussion Scholarship.

Vern Dorge of Lethbridge, Alberta received the Morris Weinzig Memorial Scholarship for best performance on a woodwind while the student who showed the most progress on a trumpet, Dave Dunlop of London, won the Julius Pickarz Memorial Scholarship.

Humber's Music Program is unique in Canada because it embraces all of the musical idioms and all areas of competency. Throughout the 3-year program, students are involved in musical ensembles, combos, jazz orchestras, stage bands, concert orchestras and experimental music.

FOOD SERVICES CHANGES IN SEPTEMBER

There will be some changes in dining facilities at Humber's North Campus when the academic year begins in September. Dave Davis, Director of Food Services, said the "Steakhouse" will be converted into a "Sandwich Shop" with a variety of hot and cold sandwiches.

"We'll have lots of variety including hot turkey, pork, hamburger and barbeque beef on a bun along with the cold sandwich favorites of egg, cheese, tuna and chicken," said Davis. "The change is being made because we want to cater to the demands of students and staff as well as have quick service."

The Seventh Semester will also have some changes.

"The Seventh Semester will be reserved for outside functions and special occasions," he said. "For example, if a faculty or staff member has invited guests to the College, then they can eat there."

And by far the most interesting change is a hot and cold food service or mini-cafeteria scheduled to open in the renovated K217 Club renamed, "The Staff Lounge".

This facility will be available to all employees of Humber and their guests. The new "Staff Lounge" will provide a luncheon service between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m., Monday to Friday, and to operate under the direct management of the Director of Food Services. No alcoholic beverages will be served during this period.

The Staff Lounge will re-open between the hours of 4:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. for bar service and the closing hour will be determined on the basis of the sales volume. Requests for reserved, private and special functions will be accepted outside of regular hours.

There will be no charge or membership to the Staff Lounge.

As for renovations, Davis said "we'll have the place repainted, new drapes and furniture, the Pepsi-Cola Company has donated 25 hanging lamps and a barbeque pit will be installed on the patio. When this place is ready in September, it'll be nicer than the Seventh Semester".

The Staff Lounge will be open mornings for coffee. Sample luncheon menus include soups, some hot dishes and a variety of salads and sandwiches.

Accommodation in the Seventh Semester is for 160 people while the new Staff Lounge will take 185 people.

MASON BECOMES CATERING MANAGER

John Mason, a graduate of Humber's Hotel and Restaurant Administration Program, is the new Catering Manager in the Food Services Department at Humber College.

Mason, an award winning student, will be responsible for the booking of all areas in Food Services requiring catering beginning in July. His number is extension 238.

PRESIDENT VISITS CLASSES

Wragg, North Campus Principal Jackie Robarts, Student Union President Molly Pellecchia and SU Affairs Co-ordinator Dennis Stapinski will visit every class to introduce themselves in support of activities planned annually by the S.U.

PAID PARKING AT HUMBER

Starting August 15, 1976, staff, faculty, students and visitors to Humber will have to pay for parking at all College Campuses.

The parking rates, effective until August 31, 1977, will cover reserved and non-reserved areas.

The annual fee for reserved parking is $100.00 and can be paid by cash or on a payroll deduction scheme. Semester reserved fees are $50.00 and payable by cash only. Those wishing reserved parking space are asked to see Bev Riches in the Physical Resources Portable or call 676-1200, ext. 444.

Rates for unreserved areas are $60.00 for an annual fee and $20.00 on a semester fee.

Daily fees, from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. will be 50 cents per vehicle and evening fees from 6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. are 25 cents per vehicle.

For more information, rules and regulations, contact the Department of Security Services at 676-1200, extension 416.

DEMAND FOR RESERVED PAID PARKING AT HUMBER

"We've received more than 250 applications in about a week from faculty and staff asking for reserved parking", said Physical Resources secretary Bev Riches.

The flood of applications resulted when College administration implemented a paid parking policy for faculty, staff and students of Humber as well as visitors.

"About four years ago there was some talk about reserved paid parking and the figure heard was about $50.00," said Riches. "There were only a few staff interested. Now there's demand for the $100.00 a year spots."

Faculty and staff still interested in reserved paid parking are asked to contact the Office of Physical Resources at 676-1200, extension 444.

PAYROLL ADVICE REQUIREMENTS - SUMMER FACULTY

Faculty engaged to teach during July and August fall within one of the following categories:

- Regular college faculty teaching diploma credit day courses on a full or part-time basis.
- Regular college faculty engaged to teach in the "Summer at Humber" program.
- Instructional personnel recruited outside the College:
 - as replacement personnel (Lakeshore Campus)
 - for "Summer at Humber".

A CHAAD or HIRAD must be initiated by the division or department and submitted for administrative approval and payroll authorization. Summer salaries for each of the above categories will be paid semi-monthly in arrears based on the submission of time sheets by the division/department.

Staff speak out!

QUESTION: Do you think rap sessions are a useful means of communicating with the President? If not, how would you suggest better communication?

"As a newcomer to Humber, I was surprised to learn that the President made time for such sessions. I commend him for it. Most Presidents wouldn't bother. Though rap sessions don't democratize this institution, they do improve communication - and that's a step in the right direction!"

Stephen Thomas
Development Director
North Campus

"I think they are useful because they do open up the lines of communication."

Fred Kettingham
Custodial
Osler Campus

"Although, in theory, the idea behind the President's Rap Session is excellent, I don't believe it is an effective way to communicate staff concerns and problems because most people are too reticent to voice their opinions amongst a large group of people or in some cases are simply afraid to make waves because of possible repercussions.

Personally, I would like to see Division Heads and Campus Principals put on the hot seat once a year by answering questions, etc. which have been submitted to them prior to the actual session; thus eliminating reticence and fear of reprisal."

Wilda Harrison
Secretary to the Principal
Lakeshore I Campus

"No, they are not. Out of all the topics which have been discussed in the past three years, nothing has culminated in action. In my opinion, the general feeling is that Rap Sessions are a waste of time and most people are afraid to say anything in case of repercussions."

Kelly Jenkins
Instructional Materials Centre
North Campus

"The President's Rap Sessions are great for general discussion and interchange of ideas, however, some people are too shy to speak out at meetings.

One solution to this problem is a Question/Suggestion Box. Written questions to the President could be answered, at his discretion, suggestions discussed, and the same give and take ambience would prevail.

The advantage to this would be that no one would have to feel that they are in the limelight. The written questions would not preclude the active exchange of information that is the purpose of these Rap Sessions, and some areas could be more freely discussed than in the past."

Molly Alderson
Manager, Resources Centre
Lakeshore II Campus

"I believe that the Rap Sessions are an excellent way to communicate with the President, bringing a sense of belonging to the team and narrowing the gap with administration - but I do believe that middle management should be informed of questions and answers."

Jack Whitley
Accounting Instructor
Keelesdale Campus

Profile

Mary Brown

Every morning Humber College's Mary Brown listens to her favorite radio announcer. And to many Canadians he's also their favorite.

He's Harry Brown, host of the CBC's Metro Morning and a recent ACTRA Award winner.

Mrs. Brown, a secretary in the Human Studies Division, came to Humber in September 1975 and says she enjoys her job.

"It's wonderful," she said. "I work for Gary Noseworthy, Senior Program Co-ordinator and four other teachers in the College Preparatory Programs and find the job interesting and challenging and I really enjoy meeting students from all over."

Mrs. Brown, who was born in St. John's Newfoundland, came to Humber after one year as a clerical worker with the Etobicoke Public Libraries Albion Branch. The job at Humber was only her second in 18 years.

"When I tell people I work at Humber College, they say 'aren't you lucky and it must be fascinating'," she said. "Many are envious and now that I work here, I can see that they're right."

The Etobicoke mother of five (four boys and a girl) says she finds it educational meeting and talking with people. She also says that "faculty in the Human Studies Division are really interested in the success of their students."

Mrs. Brown went to Memorial University in St. John's and completed one year in General Arts and two years in Home Economics.

"I wanted to be a Dietician," she said. "After Memorial, I had to go to the mainland for two years but my parents couldn't afford it, so I went to work for awhile and then met Harry."

Mrs. Brown is always asked how she met her husband.

"I conducted a glee club at the Catholic Youth Club in 1956 and Harry was host of a children's program on a private station called "Uncle Harry", she said, "He was invited to bring some young children from his show to a spring concert and I brought some from my glee club. Well, five weeks later we were engaged and a year later married."

The Browns came to Toronto in 1968 with broadcast colleague George Finstadt when both announcers got jobs with CBC Toronto. In the fall of 1969, Harry was the first announcer of the CBC's national radio news and public affairs program "As It Happens".

Mrs. Brown enjoys gardening, watching hockey and playing scrabble and bridge. "But my main hobby is looking after the people that take up most of my time, my children." She's also determined to take one of Humber's part-time golf courses in the summer.

The question most asked to her by people she meets is "What's it like being the wife of a radio announcer?" And her answer is always right to the point.

"Very exciting", she said. "I'm a rather quiet person and he's the kind who has really worked very hard and enjoys people. We meet alot of people that I probably would never have met if I wasn't married to Harry."

She also summed it up in another way, "I'm really happy being Mrs. Harry Brown."

Humber in Photos

Students in the Fashion Modelling Program at Humber recently conducted a special Spring/Summer fashion show for senior citizens at the College's North Campus.

More than 100 senior citizens turned up for the showing along with members of Humber's faculty and staff.

Kindergarten children, 100 of them, from Etobicoke's Kingsview Village Public School visited Humber College's Equine Centre in May. The educational trip included a tour of the surgical ward, tack room, Olympic-size arena and stables.

STUDENTS TEST CHILD CARE SKILLS AT ALBION CAMP

Forty Humber College child-care students spent a weekend in May at Albion Hills campground trying out communication and emotional therapy skills they have learned in the past two years.

Child-care instructor George Stampor, who organized the field trip, says it was based on a therapeutic programming concept which emphasizes the use of outdoor activities as a device to facilitate group relationships, as in the classroom situation.

The project was designed to develop students organizational and program planning skills in this area. By directing workshops in arts and crafts or camping activities, they learn to develop relaxing, pressure-free relationships with emotionally disturbed children who would not normally respond in a regular inner-city school system.

FURNITURE DESIGN PROGRAM HAPPENINGS

Ambiant, the manufacturer of much of the current furniture around Humber, are interested in the students recent project called "Transition".

Rhonda Whelan, another Humber Furniture Design student and an entrant in the Zinc furniture competition last semester, has continued to develop her clamping device.

A company, Cominco of Canada, has agreed to develop the prototypes with her. She is employed for the summer with an industrial design company called Creelman International as a junior designer.

Profile

Thomas Yee

People passing Thomas Yee in the halls of Humber College may think he's a student but little do they know they're walking by one of the key people responsible for the installation and technical services for the coverage of this summer's Olympic Games in Montreal.

Yee was born in mainland China, Canton to be exact, in 1945 and later moved to Hong Kong. He graduated from Cheng Kung University of Taiwan at the age of 21 and received his Bachelor of Science degree in Electronics and Electrical Engineering.

After graduation, Yee joined Rediffusion Broadcasting Limited in Hong Kong as a tele-recording engineer in the television division for about three years. He was responsible for their administration and engineering planning.

In 1969, he came to Canada and joined the engineering department staff of CHIN Radio in Toronto as an assistant to the chief engineer. Yee was responsible for equipment and transmitters/maintenance.

Later that year, he was hired by Wardbeck Systems Limited of Scarborough. This company specializes in the design and manufacture of professional solid-state audio equipment and systems for broadcasting, motion picture and sound recording applications.

Yee also designed new products. Some of his projects included audio systems supplied to CKEY Radio and the CBC, CFTO and Ontario Educational Television Networks. September of this year will mark Yee's fourth anniversary at Humber. His job is mainly responsible for engineering planning and broadcasting equipment maintenance for Humber's two radio stations, CHCR and CHBR. He also teaches operating engineering for broadcasting systems.

Yee is in Montreal for two months after being selected by Engineering and Technical Services for the Olympic Radio and TV Organization - the host broadcaster - as one of the technical personnel who will provide the facilities for an expected 70 television and 110 radio organizations from around the world who will be broadcasting to an estimated billion people.

Yee's job will include installation and technical services for the coverage of the Olympic Games.

"This is a challenge assignment," he said. "I've very happy that I've been asked and given the chance to participate in this international event. While working, I'll be able to learn of new developments of electronic technology in design and operating techniques in broadcasting. These will not only benefit myself but all the students at Humber College."

Before Yee left for Montreal, he installed new equipment for Humber's recording and production studio.

Yee is married. He and his wife have two children and live in North York. His hobbies are reading, cycling, fishing and electronics.

Oh yes, when you're watching or listening to the coverage of the Olympics this summer, just remember it's specialists like Yee that have made it technically possible to hear and see these Games.
