A SPECIAL CHRISTMAS GIFT TO CHILDREN AT THE ETOBICOKE GENERAL FROM HUMBER COLLEGE

Quo Vadis

Agnes McGregor, one of our Med/Surg nursing instructors, spent the last two weeks of September with a volunteer medical team at a mission hospital near Porte au Paix in the north-east part of Haiti. It is a very depressed area and many of the inhabitants suffer from malnutrition. The only surgical treatment available is periodic visits from medical teams from the U.S.A. or Canada.

This team was headed by Dr. N. D. Kerr, a gynecologist from Brampton, and included a plastic surgeon, an anaesthetist, and five nurses. They carried many of their supplies with them. In ten days, over sixty operations were performed – mostly gynecological cases and repair of "hare lip". The team worked from 12 to 16 hours every day.

Agnes brought back a number of very interesting slides taken while there, which would be of particular interest to students in the Health Sciences.

International/National Travel Programs

Enrollments are still possible in some of Humber College's International/National courses.

Each course has two parts: orientation – at Humber's North Campus – a minimum of 42 hours of study related to the particular social, political and economic environments of the area selected; and on-location to include site experience with lectures and seminars relating to the orientation. Students must successfully complete the orientation part of the course in order to participate in the on-location studies.

Additional enrollments are possible in the orientation part of these courses: Russia-Ukraine-Uzbekistan; Ancient Cultures: Greece, Egypt and East Africa; Scandinavia – The Netherlands '75; Caribbean Consciousness; In Search of the Future: With Soleris in Arizona; the Middle East and Oceanology – The St. Lawrence. Contact the Centre for Continuous Learning for more information at 678-9195.

Centre for Women

The Opportunity for Advancement Project started last month. Susan Vander Voet, Co-ordinator, called together her staff of counsellors, researcher and secretary, and selected participants for the program. The first group intake occurred November 21st. Altogether 40 women will be involved in the first phase of the project, a 12 week course for sole-support mothers on public assistance to help them assess their interests, situations and potential development. By the end of the course the women will have made plans for a better and more independent future.

During Open College Week the Centre for Women held an afternoon session for women from the community to meet Humber and talk about new roles for women. A speaker from the Ontario government in equal opportunity programs, Sandra Kerr, spoke on the present career situation for women. A panel of Humber faculty, all of whom have developed second careers, answered questions about programs in the college and ways of going back to school successfully.

This day gave the Centre an opportunity to express a major concern: helping women through the process of continuing their education.

Queensway

Faculty from five Metro Colleges attended a recent Race Pro-Dev workshop afternoon at the Queensway campus. Approximately 45 faculty participated in English as a Second Language, Academic, English, Math and Science Commercial and Technical sessions. Colleges represented included Centennial, George Brown, Mohawk, Seneca and Sheridan.

June Nyran is no newcomer to Randa at Queensway but she has been appointed Secretary to Al Picard, Chairman of the Technical and Apprenticeship Programs and Ann Kopp is the new secretary to Gus King, Chairman of Commercial and Academic studies.

Health Sciences

Jocelyn Hezekiah, Chairman of Nursing Programs at Humber, spoke to the 4th year nursing students in the B.S. program at the University of Toronto last month. Her topic "Curriculum Development" and more specifically the problems encountered in the development of curriculum for nursing diploma education.

Employee Benefit Awards

The William M. Mercer Prize for excellence in Part 4 of the Certificate in Employee Benefits course was awarded to Barry Cook, a Management Consultant, Peat, Marwick and Partners of Vancouver.

Mr. Cook's paper on the "Hour Bank Method of Accounting" will be published in a forthcoming issue of "The Canadian Personnel & Industrial Relations Journal".

Centre for Labour Studies to open at Humber

Humber College of Applied Arts and Technology and the Labour Council of Metropolitan Toronto are launching an innovative community outreach project next month.

A Centre for Labour Studies is being established to meet the educational and leadership development needs of the labour movement in Metropolitan Toronto.

The Centre, in close cooperation with an advisory committee of labour people, plans to develop credit courses leading to a Certificate in Labour Studies, non-credit courses/workshops concerned with issues of importance to the labour movement and lines of communication linking the College to the labour movement in Metropolitan Toronto.

The credit and non-credit courses and workshops will be offered at various times in order to make it possible for

Robarts Appointed Principal at North Campus

Humber College is pleased to announce the appointment of Jackie Roberts as Principal of the College's North Campus in Rexdale.

Miss Roberts has been with Humber in the Health Sciences Division since 1973 as Director of the Osler Campus. Before that time, she was Director of the Osler School of Nursing in Weston, which was transferred along with all other nursing education schools by the Ontario Ministry of Health to the Community Colleges.

Gordon Wragg, President of Humber College, recently made the official announcement. He said her function as Principal will include the responsibility of working with the Academic Deans to ensure a good teaching and learning environment for students.

Miss Roberts, born in Windsor and now a resident of Etobicoke, has her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from the University of Toronto and is completing her Masters in Education at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education. She also has her Certificate in Christian Education from Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Illinois and has worked in the Nursing profession in Hamilton and Chatham.

people from the labour movement to avail themselves of the many educational resources available through the College.

Approval for the project was given recently at a meeting of Humber's Centre for Labour Studies Steering Committee.

Establishment of the Centre at Humber College reflects the developmental work undertaken by a group composed of Joe Grogan, an instructor in the Community Services Department; Jim Gill, Executive Secretary of the Labour Council of Metropolitan Toronto; Wally Majesky, Project Director, The Labour Council of Metropolitan Toronto and Louie Lenkinski, The Ontario Federation of Labour.

Grogan will also become co-ordinator of the Centre in January.

For more information call Humber's Applied Arts Division at 676-1200.

Buckley Becomes Director of Osler Campus

Jack Buckley, Chairman of Allied Health Programs, will undertake additional responsibilities for the academic and administrative operation of the Osler Campus. This appointment will be effective for a six month period with extension if necessary. In his new role which will carry the combined title of Chairman of Allied Health Programs/Director of the Osler Campus, Buckley will assume additional responsibility for the continued, effective operation of the Osler Campus, its nursing program and residence and the effective education of students on the Osler Campus. He will work with the Division and the Nursing Heads Group in considering and implementing an effective administrative and support structure at the Osler Campus for the new nursing curriculum proposed for September, 1975 and will examine the feasibility of the introduction of full- and part-time allied health and other health sciences programs at the Osler Campus. He will continue to carry responsibility for allied health programs and courses offered at the North Campus and other locations and to deputize for the Dean of Health Sciences. The position at Osler became vacant when Jackie Roberts was appointed Principal of Humber's North Campus.

Awards in Humber's Furniture Design Program

Three students in Humber's Furniture Design Program combined to win all five awards in the students' competition of the seventh annual Ontario EEDEE Awards.

The awards were presented for "Excellence in Design".

Bryan Webster, a third-year student, won three of the five awards for his work on a unique design of an end table, a seat rack and a folding chair. Ned Goodman, another third-year student, received his award for a specially designed wheelchair work surface. Ota Pokorny, in his second year at Humber, received an award for a reading lamp design.

Claude Bennett, Ontario's Minister of Industry and Tourism, recently was reported as saying that other educational institutions should take a look at Humber to see what makes a strong, dynamic furniture design program.

Tim Stanley is the co-ordinator of Humber's Furniture Design Program which is unique in Ontario.

Starts Press

Wilfrid Laurier University, in Waterloo has announced the formation of a publishing arm to be known as Wilfrid Laurier University Press.

According to Dr. Norman Wagner, dean of graduate studies at the university and director of the press, the new venture is dedicated to producing significant publications by Canadian authors at reasonable cost.

Unlike the large university presses, Wilfrid Laurier University Press is able to bring work from manuscript form to finished product in a matter of months. Many university presses take several years.

Because typesetting is done on campus, and because of other economies, the new press is publishing full-length books in soft cover for $3.50 and $5.95 for cloth.

14 Out of 15 Cannot Make Medical School

Ontario's five medical schools rejected 14 applicants for every student admitted this year said James Auld, Minister of Colleges and Universities.

Mr. Auld, replying to opposition questions about the number of non-residents of Ontario and non-Canadians admitted, said the five medical schools had "a total of 8,733 applications for an available number of first-year positions of 582."

The minister said statistics show that applications received from Canadian citizens by the five schools "varied from a high of 95 percent in one university to 74 percent in another, giving an overall average of Canadian students in medicine to 84.2 percent, landed immigrants 14.2 percent, foreign students visas, 1.6 percent."

International Dressage at Humber

The Equine Centre at the North Campus was the site of the Rothmans International Dressage Championships last month. More than 30 riders and horses from Germany, the United States and Canada competed for prize money during the three-day event last month. The show was held in Canada for the first time. The official opening ceremonies for 25 new stables at the Centre was held during Metro Community College Week with a Parade of Champions show.

Awards were presented.....

And the people came.

ASA News

Jack Thompson, Treasurer of the Administrative Staff Association says that the A.S.A. has a bank balance of three hundred dollars.

A request has been received that the "Unicoll" Credit Union would like a representative of Humber College on its board. Due to its past association with this credit union on behalf of Humber, Arnie Thorarinson volunteered to represent Humber on the board. More information on the credit union will be made available to the staff of the College as many of the Humber employees are not aware of the services offered by this credit union here at Humber.

The following priorities have been set for the coming year:

1. Pension Plan. For example, how it should be modified, how funds are invested, percentage of interest to members, cost of living clause, reduction for retirement prior to the age of 65, etc.
2. Various benefits available, (e.g. drug and dental plans).
3. The waiting period changed for long-term disability insurance from two to three months. Reasons for this change.
4. Method used in calculation of annual merit increments.
5. Staff development.
6. Deadline for unused vacation days.

Team to U.S.; Coach stays home

ARMENAG ALAJAJIAN, Humber's Soviet varsity basketball coach and player, did not accompany the team recently on an exhibition tour to the United States.

Rick Bendera, Director of Athletics at Humber said Alajajian could not get a visa allowing him to enter the United States.

"We were told by an official at the American Embassy in Toronto that one day's notice was sufficient time to obtain the visa," said Bendera. "When we went down the week before our trip and told them we needed a visa for Alajajian, they said we had to wait six weeks."

Humber lost both games they played in Pittsburgh. Beaver County College beat Humber 95-40 and a junior team from Penn State University defeated Humber 73-46.

Community Colleges

Community colleges in British Columbia have come under government scrutiny with the report of a task force urging province-wide service. It proposes the creation of four new colleges in areas not presently within the existing college network.

The report recommends that the colleges should make major commitments to adult and continuing education in the communities they serve, as well as provide university and technological transfer programs and career programs. It also recommends that the colleges provide media-communication services to the public schools in their surrounding school districts.

Former Soviet Gymnastics Coach Comes to Humber

Humber College has signed its second national sports coach from the Soviet Union in just over a month.

Evgenii (Eugene) Davidovich Galperin, former coach of the Soviet Union National Gymnastics team, is the new full-time co-ordinator of Gymnastics at Humber. Armenag Alajajian, former basketball coach of the Soviet Central Army Team, joined the Humber coaching staff in September.

Galperin, 5 feet 6 inches and 154 pounds has been in Canada for about four months.

In 1969, he was given the title of honored coach of the Russian Soviet Federative Socialist Republic and in 1968 was coach of the combined Olympic team of the Soviet Union.

Galperin, 42, was born in Dnepro-Petrovsk and has lived for many years in Minsk.

He received his Certificate in Physical Education, Human Anatomy and Physiology from Voronezh State Teachers' Institute in 1954.

"I am really looking forward to developing gymnastics at Humber and hope to make this College the best place for gymnastics in Canada," said Galperin. "I know Humber has never had a team, but I am going to use all my knowledge and experience in helping the students who want to learn to become excellent gymnasts."

Galperin was coach of silver medal winner Alexander Maleev at the 1972 Olympics in Munich. During his 20 years as a professional gymnastics coach, Galperin instructed many students who eventually became champions in the Byelorussian Soviet Socialist Republic, as well as other competitions.

Galperin was appointed first class coach of gymnastics in his country in 1970, following a decision in Minsk by the Committee of Physical Education and Sports of the Council of Ministers of the Soviet Union.

Two years later, the same Committee granted him qualification of coach and teacher of the highest category in the country.

He says Soviet gymnasts are at least 20 years ahead of those in Canada.

"The Canadian gymnasts who placed 28th in world competition are not close to the calibre of those in the Soviet Union," he said. "With excellent facilities, I feel I can make Canadians 10th in the next Olympics."

"Galperin is the excellent instructor we need to develop a complete gymnastics teaching and coaching program at all levels at Humber," said Rick Bendera, Director of Athletics.

Colin Wackett of the Ontario Gymnastics Federation played a major role in Galperin's decision to work at Humber.

"He's one of the top rated coaches of the Soviet Union and since coming to Canada has been approached many times for his services, including that of men's national coach," said Wackett. "In my opinion, his arrival in Canada is the most significant event in the coaching of men's gymnastics to date."

Wackett added that Galperin will also be a part-time coach of the Etobicoke Jaycees Gymnastics Club which practices at Humber.

Galperin will be living in Willowdale, a Toronto suburb, with his wife Raisa and their two children, Boris, 21 and Vicki, 7.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR

I'm sending this letter regarding the "McNair Award", a plaque which belongs to the Association of Landscape Technologists but has apparently been misplaced or lost while at Humber College.

As you know, the McNair Award is one given in honor of Gordon McNair who at the time of his death was an instructor in the Humber College Landscape Technology course. It is presented to the third year graduating student who has been picked as a result of their desirable character by his or her fellow classmates.

Therefore, the award is one of great honor to the person who receives it.

The award was placed in a display case next to the concourse of Humber College, and had been there for some time.

However, earlier this year the display cases were moved by the college, and unfortunately without contacting the A.L.T. as to where the award was taken.

I am now inquiring as to whether the college can attempt to locate the misplaced award and if unable to, whether a replacement could be provided.

Our association has enjoyed a warm relationship with Humber College over the past few years and I feel confident that we can rely on the college to make a sincere effort to locate the award.

Yours truly,
M. Procnier,
President, Associated Landscape Technologists.

TO THE EDITOR

On behalf of Flowers Canada and all those who attended the International Plowing Match, we would like to thank and compliment Russ Geddes of your Retail Floriculture Program, and the students of Humber College for doing such an excellent job of decorating the walking plow, which became the centre piece of the banquet and the last day parade.

The plow was placed right at the entrance way and was the focal point to all the 1800 people who attended the banquet.

On the final day of the Plowing Match, the plow was placed on a truck and moved through the parade to enhance the total program.

Work of this type is a credit to the industry and does a great deal to promote the use of flowers and the floral industry.

Yours very truly,
Barney Wilson,
Executive Secretary,
Flowers Canada.

Cows and Politics Made Simple

Do you have trouble understanding politics or farming? If so, the following primer should clear it up for you. (Taken from The Manitoban).

SOCIALISM — You have two cows. Give one to your neighbour.

COMMUNISM — You have two cows. Give both to Gov't. The Gov't. gives you milk.

CAPITALISM — You sell one cow and buy a bull.

FASCISM — You have two cows. Give milk to Gov't. Gov't. sells it.

NAZI-ISM — Gov't. shoots you and takes cows.

NEW DEALISM — Gov't. shoots one cow; milks the others, and pours milk down the sink.

ANARCHISM — Keep cows. Shoot Gov't. Steal another cow.

CONSERVATISM — Embalm the cows. Freeze milk.

TO THE EDITOR:

Humber certainly maintained its reputation as a lively, exciting and friendly place during its recent open house. It was heart warming to be reminded that an institution of our size and complexity can maintain such an inviting profile in the community we serve.

It is, of course, a whole lot of people who make it so — the faculty, students, administrators and support staff, who planned, publicized, transported, guided, explained, demonstrated and cleaned up. Some gave up all or part of their weekend without any compensation, and many others went far beyond the call of duty to make Humber's Open House a huge success.

I am sincerely grateful to everyone.

Gordon Wragg,
President, Humber College

Happy Hooker talks at college protested

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — The Lincoln County Roman Catholic Separate School Board protested a proposed lecture by Xaviera Hollander, former prostitute and author of The Happy Hooker, at Niagara College of Applied Arts and Technology.

Board chairman Jim Marino said there are "many well-known citizens of our country who have made very positive contributions to their particular fields of endeavor and their message to our youth should be solicited" in place of Miss Hollander's contribution to school studies.

Big Itch Hits Ryerson

An unusual medical problem has hit Ryerson this year and a number of students who go to Ryerson's Health Centre are suffering from the symptoms of it. The problem is known as scabies.

Dr. D.A. Barr, director of Health Services says scabies is a skin disease which is characterized by "unusual little red lines that appear between fingers, toes, or anywhere on the skin, and is fairly contagious. . . . It's a contact disease; person to person." Scabies is a contact disease; the skin and is itchy. If the disease goes untreated, the itch will become extreme. Scabies is curable if medically treated.

Although there is a lot of influenza around, there have been no epidemics to date. The most common disorders have been "sore throat followed by cough closely followed by fatigue," said Dr. Barr.

Another $109M for Universities, Colleges

Ontario's colleges, universities and community colleges will receive an extra $109 million for the 1975-76 academic year, James Auld, minister of colleges and universities said recently.

Auld told the legislature that operating support to colleges of applied arts and technology will be increased by approximately 15.4 per cent to $200 million from $1.73 million.

The university system will receive a total of $568 million in operating funds, an increase of 16.9 per cent over the year's $486 million.

TTC Cuts Rejected for College Students

The Toronto Transit Commission cannot make any adjustment in fares until the provincial government lifts a rate freeze imposed earlier this year, Metro Chairman Paul Godfrey said recently.

The commission informed Scarborough's Centennial College that it can do nothing about a request that student fares include students in community colleges.

David J. Pugsley, dean of the engineering technology division of the college, said inflation was hitting students hard and some were living below the poverty line.

Students at secondary and elementary schools are eligible for reduced fares — 15 cents cash or seven tickets for $1.

COMPLEX 5

RESIDENTIAL LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT

COMPLEX 5

Humber College has announced plans to finance and construct Canada's first integrated multi-million dollar Residential Leadership and Management Development Centre and Physical Fitness/Athletics Facility.

"Complex 5" is the abbreviated name of the project which has been in the planning stage for the past two years.

"This kind of a complex is in great demand," said Donald White, Chairman of the Board of Governors at Humber. "The programs and facilities will be available not only to full and part-time students, but to the entire community."

"Complex 5" is being designed by Raymond Moriyama and Associates, the architects who are known for their work on the Ontario Science Centre and the Scarborough Civic Centre.

"The concept of learning, eating, training and residing in the same place for a period of anywhere between one week and two months is what the business community wants to see and be part of," said Gordon Wragg, President of Humber College.

The largest portion of the funds required for the Phase One — eight million dollar project will be obtained by means of donations from corporations, foundations and individuals. It is anticipated that the sod-turning will commence in the Spring of 1976.

"We know that 'Complex 5' is unique," said Tex Noble, Vice-President of Development at Humber and the Coordinating Chairman of the project. "We believe that 'Complex 5' will be the only integrated structure of its kind in Canada, the United States, and the British Isles.

WHAT IS IT?

A Residential Leadership and Management Development Centre/Physical Fitness, Athletics Facility.

WHO IS DESIGNING IT?

Raymond Moriyama and Associates, architects of the Ontario Science Centre, will design Complex 5.

IN WHAT SEQUENCE WILL IT BE BUILT?

At the moment we cannot be sure because, to some extent, where the money comes from will dictate the sequence. For example, the Ministry of Colleges and Universities may decide to provide money for the Physical Fitness Centre, or foundations and business firms might donate money for the Residential Leadership and Management Development Centre. However, if it can be so arranged we would like to see the Physical Fitness Centre and the Residential Leadership and Management Development Centre as joint priority one.

WHEN WILL IT BE BUILT?

At the moment we cannot say.

Hopefully, we would like to see the sod-turning take place in the Spring of 1976.

WILL IT BE BUILT ALL AT ONE TIME?

We would like to think so, but common-sense tells us that it will most probably have to be built in phases.

AT HUMBER

CENTRE/PHYSICAL FITNESS, ATHLETICS FACILITY

WHAT DOES IT COMPRISE?

Five components:

RESIDENTIAL LEADERSHIP & MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT CENTRE

a. A Residential Leadership and Management Development Centre containing classrooms, meeting rooms, a large 200 person central meeting area, a resource centre, bedroom/study rooms and catering, recreation and lounge facilities.

PHYSICAL FITNESS CENTRE

b. A multi-purpose triple gymnasium to include a fitness centre and facilities for a wide range of individual and team activities, including basketball, badminton, squash, volleyball, combatives, gymnastics and jogging, etc., etc. Also ancillary facilities including locker rooms, showers, saunas, first aid and trainers rooms and a physical fitness and athletics resource centre. Seating for 2 - 3,000 will be provided.

ICE RINK

c. An ice rink, suitable for hockey, figure and public skating with seating for 2 - 4,000 spectators.

SWIMMING POOL

d. A multi-purpose swimming pool for use as a training facility and for competitive, remedial and recreational water sports.

SPORTS FIELD

e. A multi-purpose playing field for baseball, field hockey, football, rugby, soccer, track and field and other sports.

WHY DO WE NEED IT?

We lack adequate facilities or have no facilities for many of our full and part-time and community oriented physical fitness, athletics and sports programs. In response to demand from employers in business, industry, the professions, government and community organizations, we wish to further develop our Leadership and Management Development Program. In particular, we wish to provide longer courses of from one to six weeks duration and, to adequately accommodate these, residential facilities are required.

WHERE WILL IT BE LOCATED?

Four buildings of Complex 5, (Fitness Centre, Residential Leadership and Management Development Centre, Ice-Rink and Swimming Pool) will be located between the present administration building and the bus garage. The playing field will be located in the valley immediately west of the College buildings.

HOW WILL IT BE FINANCED?

Because of the uncertainty surrounding Provincial Government capital grants we have decided to mount a three year fund-raising campaign. The exact amount of the goal is yet to be determined, and we believe that we shall obtain a substantial capital grant from the Government of Ontario for certain aspects of the project.

Christmas Message from the President

The late Professor William Line taught psychology at the University of Toronto for many years. He would walk into a new class for the first time and say something like this. "There are forty human beings in this class. Not white rats or pigeons but forty human beings, now what distinguishes you from the other creatures?"

The students would suggest something about complexity of the forebrain, the opposition of thumb and fingers, higher intelligence and so on. He would with kindness, but firmness, demolish the conventional wisdom regarding human characteristics.

When he had wiped the slate clean he would put forth his own suggestion for the distinguishing mark of a human being. He insisted that we are the only creatures who have an inner urgency to enhance the amount of affection and good feeling around us. The other creatures may be capable of giving and receiving affection but we are unique in wanting to spread it.

It is of course easy to forget this important part of our essential nature. We keep busy; we worry about time-tables, careers, promotions, parking, smoking regulations, housing and so on. But whatever our faith, Christmas comes as an annual reminder that good feelings, affection and compassion are important ingredients of the human condition. I hope that you and yours may be enveloped in the spirit of Christmas throughout the festive season and throughout the coming year.

Horsemanship Students at Roosevelt Raceway

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Linda Smith, a 21-year-old senior at the University of Stony Brook, drove Nightly Scott to an 8½ length win in the first annual Canadian-American collegiate harness driving championship recently at Roosevelt Raceway.

The three Canadian youngsters, Alex McKinlay of the University of Guelph, with Slippin By, Bob Scott of Toronto's Humber College behind Renee's Dream and Anne Conron, also of Humber, driving Champaign, wound up second, third and fourth, respectively.

John Mooney, President of the Ontario Jockey Club said if students are given the proper support, collegiate harness racing might become a popular way for students to earn scholarship money.

Enrolment Increases at Ontario Universities and Colleges

Ontario universities predict a 4.9 percent increase in full-time student enrolment in 1974-75 and a 6.3 percent increase is expected at colleges of applied arts and technology. The figures were announced recently by the Hon. James Auld, Minister of Colleges and Universities.

At Ontario's 22 community colleges, a total of 55,038 full-time students have enrolled in technology, business, applied arts and health programs, up 6.3 percent from 51,794 in 1973-74. Figures for part-time enrolment at community colleges are not yet available.

Enrolment of full-time students at universities is expected to reach 146,062, up 4.9 percent from an actual enrolment of 139,211 in 1973-74. The anticipated enrolment includes 14,137 full-time graduate students, whose numbers have also increased by 4.9 per cent. Enrolment of part-time students is expected to increase by 4.6 per cent to the equivalent of 19,440 full-time students. The university figures include estimates of enrolment at Ryerson Polytechnical Institute and the Ontario College of Art.

College figures are compiled by a simple head count, whereas university figures are based on a head count modified by an estimate of expected changes during the fall term.

Student Aid Not Enough

More than 20,000 Metro college and university students who rely on provincial grants and loans are getting less money than they need to live on, according to a survey by the University of Toronto housing service.

The students receive $32 a week for food and rent under the Ontario Student Assistance Program but it costs a minimum of $37 a week to live in Toronto, the survey said.

The U of T survey based its figures on the average costs of various types of student housing available plus several food costs surveys done at U of T and Ryerson Polytechnical Institute.

The study concluded that the cheapest way a student could live was to pay an average of $22 a week on co-op housing and spend a minimum of $15 a week on food.

David Ferguson, director of policy and planning for the Ministry of Colleges and Universities, admits that inflation has had serious effects on the food and housing allowance.

About 40 per cent of the province's 200,000 college and university students get some kind of aid under the program. It pays up to $2,400 for tuition and living costs and has a total budget of $35 million this year.

The first $800 given to a student is a loan repayable after he completes his education. The balance is a non-repayable grant.

University Fees

The latest figures from Statistics Canada show that tuition fees at Canadian universities have levelled off this year. Only the University of Prince Edward Island indicated tuition increases in all of the 12 fields of study surveyed. The largest number of increases occurred in arts courses. Six of the 51 universities offering arts courses indicated fee increases ranging from $5 to $75 a semester. Only four universities indicated tuition increases in science courses.

Drive Like you'd like everyone else to drive.

PRIME MINISTER · PREMIER MINISTRE

There was a time in Canada's recent history when the month of December was the worst in the year for fatal traffic accidents.

Now, more than half the months of the year have records worse than December. This suggests to me that the campaign does have an appreciable effect in saving lives and in helping to prevent injury. It also shows that there is still a long, long way to go.

As responsible Canadians, each driver must accept his duty to drive safely on our roads, so the awareness and practice of that obligation will extend great benefits to all drivers, their families and to Canada.

I am pleased to encourage and to ask the support of all Canadians for "Safe Driving Week" which is sponsored by the Canada Safety Council, and I hope that this concern may be extended throughout the whole year.

Students Flock to Library

One month of the year has been designated as statistics month in the library for the past seven years. A careful analysis of this data reflects the growth of Humber College.

This year, North Campus library statistics have been emphasized to highlight the utilization of our resources. For two years the library has maintained a separate count for the evenings in order to isolate the developing usage by Continuous Education students.

A steady improvement in book-stock and also in quality of reference services is reflected in the increased circulation. Unfortunately, stringent space restrictions have meant that the library has to predict much of its barometers of usage on circulation, as there are many hours during the day when there is no space for a student to study in the library resource area and therefore the material must be checked out.

Overcrowding tends to produce a negative image and the library has to work hard to maintain a pleasant but efficient student-oriented service. The percentage of increase of usage (up 23% from 1973), is a higher increase than the student enrollment and can be partially explained by more involvement on the part of the continuing education student. With more space, the library resource centre could be developed into a real community resource. While the addition of the Periodicals Room H233 has created additional space, students are already using it to capacity.

Since 1971, the library has increased its space by only 14% but increased its usage (as measured by circulation) by almost 100%.

Students Work on Home Care Program

Two students from Humber's Child Care Worker Department are presently developing and implementing a new home care program for Huntly Youth Services. This is the first time Child Care Workers have been used in the counselling service of the agency. Home Care is a new concept in delivering help to families in distress by sending workers into the home to help parents and children cope with daily emotional problems. The Child Care Workers provide immediate support and problem-solving skills as they are needed. This approach is particularly helpful to families in traditional counselling programs by integrating theory and practice and for families who cannot make use of the regular services in the community.

Humber Student Wins Award at Media Festival

Mike King, a student in the Photography Program entered his film "Keep The Candles Burning" in the Canadian Instructional Media Festival for 1974. It was one of approximately 150 entries from all levels of educational institutions across the country. All entries were viewed by a panel of screeners chosen for their expertise in the media or educational field. The screeners chose 60 entries which they considered were representative of the total submissions to receive "Awards of Merit".

One of the requirements of the Festival is that entries be curriculum supportive and institutionally produced. Mike's entry was not considered by the screeners to be curriculum supportive. However, due to the innovative techniques and interesting subject presentation of the film, the screeners awarded Mike an Honourable Mention Award of Merit. Mike's film, along with the other award winning entries were shown to the public at the 1974 Canadian Education Showplace, held recently at the C.N.E.

United Appeal Goes Over Top at Humber

Elsie Swartz, an instructor in the Secretarial Programs at Humber, donated $150.00 to United Appeal Day recently at Humber.

Hugh Morrison, Co-ordinator of the Public Relations Program, whose students sponsored the day, said her contribution put the final total collected at $1,091.88. The six-hour goal was $1,000.00

Other fund-raising events and the totals collected were a raffle for Elton John tickets ($251.50); tricycle collection ($376.19); a male leg contest ($100.00); a Shinerama ($164.19) and a $50.00 gift from the Student Union.

Humber Staff Christmas Dance

The K217 Klub is holding a Christmas Dance on Saturday 14 December from 8:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Some people have indicated concern over this event being held at Humber. The reasons for having it at Humber are because there has not been enough lead time to rent space outside since most locations are booked for the Christmas season several months ahead and there is insufficient financial backing at this time to put out large sums of money. A good dance band, hot buffet and other entertainment has been planned at a cost of $6.00 per person.

Opportunity for Advancement Project

The project "Opportunity for Advancement" has started at Humber's Queensland Campus on Cullnan Avenue in Etobicoke. A staff of five are under the direction of Susan Vander Voet who has just returned to Canada after spending a year in Santiago, Chile with her husband and three children. While in Chile, she taught elementary school part-time and worked as a volunteer-advocate with the emigration program at the Canadian Embassy on behalf of Chilean refugees. Mrs. Vander Voet has her Masters degree in Social Work from the University of Toronto and prior to her overseas assignment was active in a number of community education development projects, including the setting-up of the Rexdale Community Information Directory.

The rest of the team consists of Marg Corkery, who has a variety of experience as a child care and welfare worker and more recently as a counsellor for Womanpower in London - a project funded by Manpower which helped women get into the workforce; Audrey Wright, a social worker, who has been a consultant on groups with the Peel County Children's Aid Society; Sonya Pilch, a counsellor at the Jewish Vocational Services; Olga Kosak, a former assistance manager in a large retail firm and Orville Endicott, an Anglican clergyman, psychologist, researcher for a "New Start Project" in Nova Scotia. He is also studying law at Osgoode Hall.

Centre for Continuous Learning

Frank Thibodeau is the new replacement for Judy McGonigal, who left Humber last month for Newfoundland.

Thibodeau is from Atkinson College of York University where he held the position of Director of Student Programs. He was also on staff at Laurentian University in Sudbury and has been an assistant counsellor with Canada Manpower.

Creative & Human Studies

PEGGY MATTYS, a student in the Music Program at Humber, is the winner of the Silver Medal for Accordion in the Province of Ontario for Grade VII standing... A Graphic Arts class designed a logo, masthead, brochure and display card as part of a winter term project Arts Etobicoke is promoting to show its serious intention to get things rolling for the Centre's winter program. About 35 logos were considered and out of four finalists one logo was picked and everything printed... In a recent article in the "Sunday Sun", TIM STANLEY, co-ordinator of the Furniture Design Program said he aims at beating rising prices and making more use of space in the home and furniture you buy for it. Stanley says today's furniture does not support the human anatomy and according to him when buying a chair or sofa, we should sit in it for at least 45 minutes to an hour... Four Journalism students acted as recorders at the recent Foster Parents Conference at Humber. Their notes formed the basis of a report to delegates which will be issued by the three agencies who sponsored the conference; the two Metropolitan Children's Aid Societies and the Jewish Family and Children's Services of Metropolitan Toronto.

Metro Colleges Conference at Humber

A two-day conference is being planned for the faculty of the five metro community colleges - Humber, Sheridan, Seneca, Centennial and George Brown. It will be held during the last week of May 1975.

The general purpose of the conference is to provide an opportunity for the faculty of the metro colleges to meet, share ideas and experiences, and explore new possibilities.

A multitude of events will occur simultaneously including workshops, seminars, discussion groups and speakers. To ensure relevancy, the faculty of the five colleges will be involved in the planning process.

New Director of Centre for Women

RENATE KRAKAUER is the new Director of the Centre for Women. In addition to being a professional pharmacist, she has had a wide background in programming for women in a variety of settings. The editor of Humber's first Centre For Women newsletter, Renate has developed and taught a number of courses at Humber and Sheridan Colleges and at York University. She is presently the Co-ordinator of and an instructor in the Women In Business and Government project at York University's Centre for Continuing Education.

Renate recently received her Master's degree in Environmental Studies in addition to carrying a variety of developmental, teaching and community related responsibilities.

Don't be Sick!

According to the new sick leave benefit plans for both administrative and support staff, those who are absent from their job for a period of three days or more because of illness, are required to produce a doctor's certificate. The letter should be taken to Personnel Services when the person returns.

EDUCATION OUTLOOK

Education Statistics Show Decline

Advance figures on education from Statistics Canada show a drop in enrolment this fall of 1.4%, or 84,000 students, to a total of 6,130,000 in Canada's schools.

All of the decrease took place in elementary schools, where a 3.4% drop to 3.40 million students reflects the very low birthrate of the past decade. Secondary school enrolment is up slightly (0.1%) to 1,807,000. Still benefiting from the higher birthrates of the late 1950s and early 1960s, and further bolstered by the trend toward higher education, university enrolment swelled 3% to 342,000 and that of colleges by 6.6% to 225,000.

Full-time teaching staff decreased by about 3,400 teachers (1.3%) to 265,000 in elementary and secondary schools, but increased by 1,600 (3.6%) to 47,000 in the post-secondary institutions.

Veterinary Grant

Ontario Veterinary College of the University of Guelph has received a $144,000 grant for research on the disease that is the greatest single impediment to the livestock industry in Africa. The two-year grant comes from the International Development Research Centre for studies of the disease, Trypanosoma congolense.

The parasite is transmitted by the tsetse fly and has existed in Africa for centuries.

Ontario Reports on Education Costs

Ontario's ministry of education has released the fourth interim report of the committee on the costs of education in the province. The report contains 17 recommendations dealing with educational planning at the provincial, school board and school levels. It urges co-ordinated planning for the future, including policies and curriculum, teacher education, special education, educational technology and school buildings.

"The rapid expansion of the educational enterprise in Ontario following World War II left little time to look ahead," the report states. "Emphasis had to be placed on meeting the immediate demand for new schools, more classrooms, additional teachers, increased supplies, extended technology and extra equipment." The report warns that because of the present levelling off of enrolments, planning for the future is imperative.

Provincial Schools are Renamed

Schools for the deaf at Milton and Belleville have been named after two former Ontario premiers.

The Milton school has been named The Ernest C. Drury School. Mr. Drury served as premier from 1919 to 1923. The Belleville school has been named The Sir James Whitney School after the man who served as the province's chief executive officer from 1905 to 1914.

Earlier this year the school for the blind at Brantford was named after former Lieutenant-Governor W. Ross Macdonald, and the regional centre for the hearing handicapped in London was named after former premier John Roberts.

The four Ministry schools have a total enrolment of more than 1,300 students. The cost of educating and providing for the deaf and blind students is paid by the Ministry.

U of Alberta Gets $3-Million Grant

The University of Alberta has received the largest grant awarded to date by the Medical Research Council of Canada. The grant provides more than $3 million funding for the establishment of a research group to investigate the structure and function of proteins. Proteins play an essential role in every function upon which the human body depends; they are the building blocks of every body cell.

"This is research fundamental to all life processes," says the university's Dean of Medicine Dr. D. F. Cameron. "Information gained through this research — fundamental, basic research — could possibly have application to finding a new cure for a number of diseases . . . for any disease involving cellular malfunction," says the dean. The research will be conducted by a team of six primary investigators co-directed by Dr. Cyril Kay and Dr. L. B. Smillie, both professors in the University of Alberta Faculty of Medicine's department of biochemistry.

Privacy Grant

Two university of Western Ontario professors have been awarded a $147,000 Ford Foundation grant to investigate the means of resolving conflicts between individual privacy and society's need to know more about itself. The three-year study will be the first to examine the specific problem of balancing the individual's right to privacy and the need of the social science researcher for access to non-identifiable personal data housed in government data banks. It will assess both the benefits and the hazards of making these data more available to qualified scholars.

Warning to Parents

A group of 10 Erindale College students have exposed what they claim is a price variance in the Christmas present business.

The students, as part of a sociology project, have compiled data which demonstrates that different stores charge a wide variety of prices for the same items.

A game called Clue in Square One's Woolco costs $3.96. At Kiddlywinks, also at Square One, shoppers will have to pay $8.49 for the same game.

A set of building blocks called Lego No. 7 will cost the buyer $14.99 at Shoprite and as much as $16.99 from Eaton's catalogue and $19.98 at Kiddlywinks in Square One.

A Skittle-Pool game will cost the buyer $12.96 at the Rockwood K-Mart, $17.99 at Sherway Gardens' Dominion Playworld and $18.88 at the Rumpus store in Square One.

Sweet Sounder Tenderlove costs $9.69 in Eaton's at Sherway Gardens, and $12.99 at the Bay in Square One.

Barbie's Beach Bus can be bought for $11.99 from Eaton's catalogue, for $12.57 from Horizons at the Rockwood Mall and for $13.43 at the Square One Woolco.

An Easy Bake Oven will cost $14.99 if you buy it from Eaton's at Sherway Gardens and up to $19.97 if you buy it from Shoprite.

A Play Family Village costs $16.77 from the Eaton's catalogue and all the way up to $22.98 at the Kiddlywinks store in Square One.

The Play Family A Frame at Sears in Square One will cost $9.99 and $13.87 from the Rockwood K-Mart.

Allister McKichan, spokesman for Eaton's Catalogue Stores said they try to maintain a reasonable relationship between the prices store to store, but they don't try for absolute consistency in prices.

"We may offer a lower price in Square One, but that store's delivery time might be different from another," he said.

College Group Defers Decision on Doing Study

OTTAWA (CP) — Directors of the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada have deferred until January a decision on whether to undertake a new study of continuing education in Canada.

The association, holding its annual meetings in Ottawa, authorized in principle more than a year ago a new national study of the field, subject to obtaining grants to finance it.

When the directors met they were told the federal Manpower Department was interested in the project, but the Secretary of State's Department and the Canada Council had doubts about it.

Brantford Studies Post-Secondary

A committee of Brantford, Ontario citizens has received $25,000 from the Ministry of Colleges and Universities to study an experimental consortium approach to post-secondary education in Brantford and Brant County. The Consortium approach is defined as "the working together of existing post-secondary educational institutions to meet the current and future educational needs of a community".

Announcing the grant, the Honorable James A. C. Auld, Minister of Colleges and Universities, said that the Ministry endorses the consortium approach not only to formal post-secondary educational opportunities offered by cultural institutions such as art galleries, museums and the provincial library system.

The study encompasses issues such as transfer of credits and compatibility of admission requirements among participating institutions, the degree granting aspects of co-operative post-secondary education, appropriate fee sharing and funding arrangements, utilization of current library facilities and resource, and the availability of current capital resources in the area.

Sign of the Times?

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Police searching for marijuana recently raided a bus heading for Miami Beach senior high school. They turned up two bottles of Mogen David wine and a pair of dice.
